My client Smt. Sharavati is the absolute owner of the schedule property. She has filed OS No. 7302/2022 on the file of the City civil Judge, CCH-2, at Bangalore in this regard against her husband and M/s Canara Bank, Gokula Branch, Bangalore. However, even after service of suit summons in the said case, M/s Canara Bank, Gokula Branch has illegally notified the schedule property for public auction on "as is where is" and "as is what is" basis on 16/1/2022 in suppression of the pendency of OS No. 7302/22. My client has not created any security interest in favour of M/s Canara Bank in respect of the schedule property. In view of the same, general public are hereby requested to exercise their discretion and refrain from participating in the said public auction to avoid any future litigation and loss.

KOHLI'S 45TH ODI TON HELPS INDIA RULE SL

An authoritative Virat Kohli headlined India's utterly dominant performance with his 45th ODI hundred as the hosts pummelled Sri Lanka by 67 runs in the first of the three-match series in Guwahati on Tuesday. Asked to bat first, India rode former skipper Kohli's 87-ball 113 to rake up 373 for seven. In reply, the Sri Lankans were never in the hunt and ended at 306 for eight in 50 overs to hand the hosts a 1-0 lead in the rubber | P17

PRE-KG TOT THROWN OUT OF SCHOOL BUS, GETS RUN OVER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A four-year-old girl was killed on the spot after she was thrown out of her school bus, when the driver took a sharp swerve while negotiating a curve. The girl came under the rear wheel of the bus. The incident occurred in Kanakapura taluk of Ramanagara district on Monday evening.

Raksha of Siddenahalli village in Kanakapura, was a pre-kindergarten student of Sri Sai International School, located at Ramanahalli Gate.

On Monday evening, the bus carrying students was plying on Picchanagere-Siddenahalli Road when the driver took a sharp turn at a curve. As the bus door was not closed, Raksha, who was sitting in the seat next to the door, lost her balance and fell out of the bus. The rear wheel of the bus ran over her head, killing her on the spot. The incident led to a protest by villagers, and the driver fled the spot, fearing public wrath.

The girl's father, Swamy, a farmer, charged the driver and caretaker of the bus with negligence. "The driver was driving in a rash manner, without ensuring the door was shut, while the caretaker failed to ensure the safety of the children," he alleged. Kanakapura Rural police arrested the driver and seized the bus.

Indian Army to induct women in artillery

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Army is all set to induct women into its combat streams, beginning with the Regiment of Artillery, sources said.

There are 1,705 women officers in the Army serving in 10 arms and services — Corps of Engineers, Corps of Signals, Army Air Defence, Army Service Corps, Army Ordnance Corps, Corps of Electronics and Mechanical Engineers, Army Aviation Corps, Intelligence Corps, Judge Advocate General Branch and Army Education Corps in addition to the Armed Forces Medical Services.

Until now, they were not granted permanent commission to Infantry, Armoured, Artillery and Mechanised Infantry regiments. The Artillery Regiment is said to be the second largest division in the Army, after the infantry. Artillery with its missiles, guns, mortars, rocket launchers and unmanned aerial vehicles is also described as an 'Arm of Decision'.

The Air Force pioneered inducting women into combat roles beginning with three women officers being commissioned as fighter pilots in June 2016. Fifteen women fighter pilots have been commissioned till date. Last month, the Navy announced that it will open its every branch, including the submarine, to its women officers and the Personnel Below Officers Rank (PBOR) from 2023.

Now, DGCA notice to Go First for KIA goof-up

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

AVIATION regulator DGCA (Directorate General of Civil Aviation) on Tuesday issued a show cause notice to GO First airline after its Bengaluru-Delhi flight inexplicably took off from Bengaluru airport without boarding 55 passengers on Monday. The passengers were waiting in a shuttle coach on the tarmac when the flight took off.

"Multiple mistakes took place in that flight, which includes lack of proper communication, coordination, reconciliation and confirmation," the DGCA said.

Soon after, Go First apologised, adding will offer all affected passengers a free ticket on any domestic sector, which can be used anytime in the next one year.

"We sincerely apologise for the inconvenience caused to the passengers due to an inadvertent oversight in the reconciliation of flight G8 116... passengers were accommodated on alternate airlines to Delhi," GO First spokesperson said.

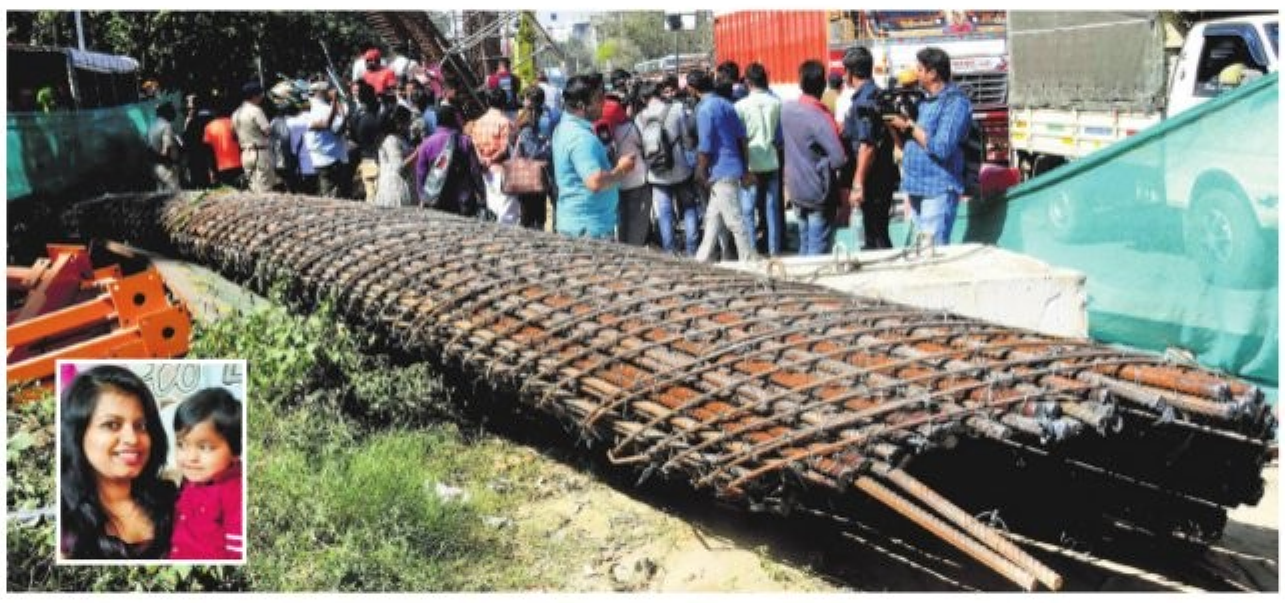
Metro pillar collapse kills mom, kid

Hubby, daughter on bike escape unscathed; Negligence in construction activity being blamed



The reinforcement cage of an under-construction Metro pillar fell on a two-wheeler killing Tejaswini Sulakhe and her son Vihaan L Sulakhe (inset) on Nagavara Ring Road near HBR Layout in Bengaluru on Tuesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a horrendous accident due to negligence in construction activity on Tuesday morning on the Outer Ring Road in HBR Layout area, a 28-year-old woman and her 2.6-year-old son were killed when a tall skeletal under-construction part of the Metro pillar fell on the two-wheeler they were riding pillion on at 10.45 am. The father and daughter on the same bike escaped unscathed.

Tejaswini Sulakhe, a techie, and her little son Vihaan L Sulakhe sustained severe head and facial injuries and were rushed to the Altius Hospital nearby where they died after efforts to save them proved futile. Vihaan's twin sister Vismita and father Lohit Kumar V Sulakhe, 33, a civil engineer seated in the front half of the vehicle survived narrowly.

The family resides at DS Max Apartments at Horamavu in Kalkere and Lohit was on his way to drop his wife, employed at Manyata Tech Park and their twins to a playschool they had joined just over a week ago.

Metro Contractor NCC Ltd was carrying out work in this spot, which falls under Package-1 which runs from Benigenahalli to Kempapura of the K R Puram-KIA line of Phase II (2B line).

The scaffolding of the reinforcement cage, a part of which hit the family, runs to a height of 18 metres and has 60 steel rods in it, weighing 6 tonnes.

Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited managing director, Anjum Parwez, who visited the spot, explained, "The temporary staging work for the reinforcement cage (skeletal structure) was being carried out with four steel pipes on each side with workers working on them. One of the pipes gave way and the tall structure suddenly tilted to one side and hit the family passing by at that moment. This is the first time this kind of an accident has happened." P4

Kin stuck in traffic caused by mishap

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

Sixty-three-year-old retired commissioner of Urban Development Authority from Gadag, Vijay Kumar G Sulakhe, was in for a shock. Little did he know the traffic jam that he was stuck in on Outer Ring Road in HBR Layout was caused due the under-construction pillar falling and claiming the life of his daughter-in-law and his 2.6-year-old grandson.

Now the justifiably angry and grief-stricken sexagenarian is baying for the blood of Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) over the alleged negligence that claimed the life of his two family members. "Legal measures will be taken against the BMRCL to ensure that no family undergoes the trauma which we are going through," he roared, after the bodies of his daughter-in law Tejaswini Sulakhe and grandson Vihaan were moved for autopsy.

He said the mishap was definitely due to poor work quality and lack of safety measures at the Metro construction site. "The government should take note of it. My family is suffering due to the negligence of someone else. Vihaan was attached to me just as much as his twin sister Vismita," he said. P4

‘I LOOKED BACK, THEY WERE CRUSHED’

- In his plaint, father says daughter held him tight when the pillar collapsed
- ‘Safety measures were unscientific as there was no reinforcement provided’
- Case against site engineers, contractors, site-in-charge and BMRCL officials

Another incident involving NCC Ltd on Airport Line

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the tragedy in which a mother and her son were killed after an under-construction Metro pillar collapsed, it has come to light that this is the second such accident on the Metro's Airport Line where contractor, NCC Limited, is carrying out the works. The earlier incident, which took place four months ago at Hennur casting yard, has been kept under wraps. However, no one sustained any injuries, but the incident delayed work on crucial infrastructure on this stretch, said a reliable Metro source.

The source said, “The earlier mishap occurred when the beam of the 250-tonne main gantry (a heavy static crane) broke when it was lifting a U-girder.” This was a major accident and work at the casting yard came to a standstill in the aftermath of the incident, and this impeded the rapid pace of infrastructure work for the Airport Line at that time.

“Work could not progress for three months and it resumed again a month earlier,” he explained.

The reason for the incident was NCC Ltd, instead of using a new gantry, deployed a used gantry which was already used for other construction works. “The worn out state of it was the reason why it gave way,” the source said.

“The Hennur yard has so far readied around 60 girders and if the mishap had not occurred, it would have readied 200 girders,” he added. It caters to the requirements of Package One of the KR Puram-Hebbal- KIA line which runs from Benigenahalli to Kempapura.

NCC Ltd has been awarded contracts for all three packages on the 37-km Airport line. No one at NCC Ltd could be reached for their comments.

OFFICIALS BLAMED IN PLAINT

Lohit Kumar V Sulakhe, a civil engineer, who lost his wife and son, blamed the site engineers, contractors, site in-charge and BMRCL officials in his statement to Govindapura police for the mishap. He was riding the bike, and the twins Vismita and Vihaan were seated between him and his wife. “We were on the Outer Ring Road from the Hennur Cross side towards Manyata Tech Park. Near the Axis Bank in HBR Layout, the under- construction Metro pillar fell on my son and wife, and they were thrown off the bike. My daughter was clutching onto me. When I looked behind, my wife and son were crushed under the iron pillar. With help from passersby, I shifted them to a nearby private hospital,” he said in his complaint.

BMRCL announces ₹20L relief to kin of victims

WORK will be stopped for two days on this stretch. “The height of the structure was a reason for it to lose balance. We will go back to the drawing board and redesign such tall structures,” he said.

This staging process is carried out before creating a mould with concrete for the pillar to be readied on it.

A senior government official familiar with the works admitted there was negligence on the part of the contractor and BMRCL. “A total of 1,100 pillars dot the Airport Line. How come only the structure of this pillar swayed and caused such fatalities. Negligence has definitely occurred here,” he said.

Billing it as “very unfortunate”, Anjum Parwez announced a compensation of Rs 20 lakh for the deceased. “We will bear hospital expenses and any other support the family wants. This is just a token gesture and we will never be able to compensate the family for the loss,” he said.

The Govindapura police have registered a case against the site engineers, contractors, site-in-charge and BMRCL officials for the incident. FIRs have been registered under sections IPC 304A (death by negligence), IPC 336 (Act endangering the life of personal safety of others), IPC 337 (causing hurt by act endangering life or personal safety of others) and IPC 427 (mischief causing damage to the tune of Rs 50).

₹10L EX-GRATIA FROM CM’S RELIEF FUND

Bengaluru: CM Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday announced an ex-gratia of ₹10 lakh from Chief Minister's Relief Fund to the family of the deceased in the Metro pillar collapse tragedy on in HBR Layout area. Speaking to mediapersons during his visit to Hubballi ahead of the PM's visit on January 12, he said: “Details of the mishap have been sought. It's unfortunate. Orders have been given to launch a probe into the cause of the accident.”

‘Money can’t replace lost lives’

“THE guilty should be punished. Monetary relief cannot replace lost lives,” a visibly shaken Sulakhe, who with his wife had moved to Bengaluru from Gadag to be with his grandchildren, said.

He said safety precautions were given a go-by as there was no reinforcement provided to the iron rod casing of the pillar. No one should be allowed to venture at least 30 metres close to the pillar, but vehicles ply within 5-10 feet, which only shows how unscientific the safety measures have been in place, said Sulakhe, who is familiar with the safety measures having worked with urban development.

“I was not aware that the Metro pillar had collapsed till I went close to it. I thought it was natural to often get stuck in traffic jams. He said his son (Lohit V Sulakhe, 33, who along with his daughter Vismita escaped unscathed) had been trying to call him to tell him something, but he couldn't take it as he took the service road to reach the spot via Nagawara Road. He knew only minutes later. “This has caused me unbearable loss,” the senior Sulakhe said.

Tejaswini refused WFH to be with her children

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

SOFTWARE engineer Tejaswini Sulakhe, 28, had chosen to work half-days from office despite being granted permission to work from home. Reason: her 2.6-year-old twin children Vihaan L Sulakhe and Vismita L Sulakhe had started going to pre-school from January 2 in Manyata Tech Park, where Tejaswini worked in Motorola Solutions in MFAR Building in the same complex.

After school, Tejaswini would pick up her children and return home with them in an autorickshaw. She had made this arrangement to be with her children who were still adjusting with the new environment.

Every morning, her 33-year-old husband Lohit Kumar V Sulakhe dropped them to Manyata Park before going to his own workplace, Cadezel Engineering Services LLP in Vijayangar.

“The twins were students of Vivero International Preschool and Child Care in Manyata Tech Park,” Tejaswini's sister Sushma said. “Her in-laws did not want her to work, but Tejaswini preferred working. She wanted her children to go to schools to get them adjusted with other kids. Her in-laws had come from Gadag, and were staying with the family to be with their grandchildren.”

It was an usual Tuesday morning until the under-construction Metro pillar collapsed when the four of them were on their way from DS Max Apartments at Horamavu in Kalkere to Manyata Tech Park and passing on Nagavara Outer Ring Road, killing Tejaswini and Vihaan.

Duo suffered heavy bleeding from head injuries: Docs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DOCTORS of Altius Hospital, where the injured woman and her son were rushed, said that both suffered excessive bleeding from the head, nose and face. They were even given CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) several times and were also put on ventilator.

They were declared dead by 11.40am. Tejaswini, 28, and Vihaan, 2.6 years, succumbed to severe head injuries and shock due to excessive blood loss, the treating doctors said.

Anaesthesiologist of Altius Hospital Dr Mahesh SB, who attended to the patients, said the mother and son were immediately brought to hospital. Both suffered severe head injuries which led to excessive bleeding from the face, mouth and nose.

The doctor said they started treatment immediately, and police was also informed. Medical superintendent Dr Raghavendra C said they were brought to hospital at 10.30am, and doctors attempted ro revive them. Tejaswini succumbed to injuries within half an hour, and Vihaan in an hour. Doctors were surprised to see that the father, Lohith, and daughter Vismita did not suffer any injuries. Dr Mahesh said Lohith walked to hospital with his daughter.

Postmortem taken up

The bodies were taken to Dr Ambedkar Medical College and Hospital for autopsy around 2pm Tuesday, but it was taken up only after 8.30pm due to legal procedures, sources in the forensic medicine department said.

Mechanical sweepers for clean roads

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the accidental deaths of BBMP pourakarmikas on duty on Airport Road and other high traffic density roads, the Palike is set to deploy mechanical sweepers on arterial and sub-arterial roads.

Basavaraj Kabade, chief engineer, Solid Waste Management, BBMP, said, “The machines are very handy and weigh 30kg. They have two attached brushes, suction, and are mounted on wheels. Pourakarmikas can use the sweeper, it needs only a push to start working.”

He said the machines had already been demonstrated at a few places, and pourakarmikas had given their feedback. The Palike will purchase 815 ‘Manual Push Operative Sweeping Machines’, which will cost Rs 3.30 crore.

“Of 13,000km of road length in Bengaluru, 1,400km are arterial and sub-arterial roads, and the rest are ward roads. As sweeping on arterial roads was becoming challenging due to heavy traffic and speeding vehicles, the Palike is deploying these machines,” said Kabade.

The Palike has invited tenders and the process is expected to be completed in less than four months.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

11TH January : Virgoan patterns rise up the stellar agenda over the next twenty-four hours. Your first priority is to get everything in order. If you focus on the details then the big picture will fall into place. The best plan for the coming year is to maintain a harmonious balance between your private and public lives.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Now is the time to demand more money for all your hard work. The luckiest Ariens will be surrounded by people falling over themselves to offer you prestigious posts and large cheques, not necessarily in that order! There's one condition: you've got to do what partners tell you - at least some of the time!

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
No doubt you feel pulled between two emotional options, trapped, perhaps, between the devil and the deep blue sea. Hopefully, today's fresh lunar alignments should help you make up your mind, or at least arrive at some sort of temporary solution.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
There is a great deal to keep you busy, and a good thing too! The main consideration is probably that you tackle underlying problems, but don't push yourself so hard that you end up exhausted. You'll be no good to anyone if you're flat on your back.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Passionate influences reach a peak very soon, but that doesn't just apply to matters of love - or of hate. Many of you will be deeply involved in a purely private project, rather then connected with another person. You're on a quest for perfection, but will you ever find it? Perhaps not, but at least you can try!

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Venus and Jupiter have been boosting your prosperity, although the absence of pressures to save and conserve means that you are now as likely to be in the red as in profit. This could perhaps be one cause of current domestic friction. Perhaps a partner can help!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
This hardly looks like a day for small talk, and even those Virgos who like cracking jokes will have a profound point to make about the human condition. You can maintain a diplomatic silence under pressure, and only speak when you're truly confident.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
When financial matters come to ahead, the causes may lie in the distant past, even as far back as three years ago. By the same token, your current actions may have repercussions for the long-term future, so be positive. But don't imagine that you can get away with anything!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The Sun and Moon are just two celestial bodies making repeated alignments with intense Pluto, by now a regular fixture in your calendar. In all matters, personal and professional, there is absolutely no room for compromise over principles, at least, not just yet.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may be slightly disturbed by various mysteries or half-understood developments. Avoid rumours and unfair suspicions, and take the opportunity to dream a little. There is much to be said for indulging your fantasies. After all, what is life without dreams to strive for?

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Although your social stars are bright, there is a vague chance that certain people will indulge in rumour-mongering and back-biting. Such types are to be ignored and avoided, for you have higher things on your mind. Others may not listen to you, but that is their problem.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There is no room for time-wasting at work. Neither should you be surprised if employers or people in authority are over-emotional, and for your own self-protection you should tread very carefully. You don't want to give the wrong impression, especially not now.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The Moon's alignment with the Sun and Pluto ensures that you are in a strong position to make your point, but the absence of guidelines may still leave you feeling somewhat confused. Act according to what you know to be right rather than on the basis of what other people want.

Mentally-ill woman dies in suspected stray dog attack in Dharwad village

She used to beg for a living; officials waiting for autopsy report to confirm cause of death

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH
@Dharwad

A 58-year-old woman died after she was allegedly attacked by a pack of stray dogs in Uppin Betageri village of Dharwad district on Tuesday night. The deceased, Mabubi Nadaf, was mentally-ill and used to beg for a living in the village.

She was sleeping on the village outskirts when the dogs allegedly attacked her. Moula Saab, brother of the deceased, said his sister was mentally-ill and usually stayed away from the house. "We used to bring her home, but she would go back to begging. She was under treatment for her illness, but she became a victim of stray dogs," he said.

Health Department officials, however, said they will not confirm the cause of death until the postmortem report is out. "The woman might have died and the dogs would have tried to eat her flesh or anything else could have happened. We are waiting for the autopsy report to confirm the allegation made by her family and the villagers," said an official.

The villagers alleged that the number of stray dogs has increased, but authorities are not worried about it. "A majority of district officials use four-wheelers and they do not face the problem of being chased by stray dogs. They listen to our issues, but forget them soon after leaving the village," they alleged.

"We have seen the victim sleeping on the outskirts of the village at night and she generally used to sleep in temples and other places but unfortunately dogs have bitten her. We called the police and covered the body after chasing away the dogs," they added.

"Stray dog attacks have become quite common here and the authorities are not doing enough on the ground but for giving false assurances. The population of dogs is increasing every year instead of coming down despite several drives taken up by the authorities within the city limits and panchayat levels. Dog bites and untoward incidents are a testimony to the namesake drives," they said.

A Health Department official said action will be taken and a meeting will be held with panchayat members and villagers at Uppina Betageri soon. A case has been registered.

EIGHT INJURED IN STRAY DOG ATTACK IN GOKAK

Gokak: As many as eight persons were injured in a stray dog attackat Sangam Nagar and Satish nagar Bojgar plot in Gokak town on Tuesday morning. They were standing outside their houses when the stray dog all of a sudden attacked them, at about 6 am. It bit them on their legs. All the injured were immediately admitted to the Government Hospital at Gokak. A team of Gokak municipal employees are searching for the dog. Shivannand Hiremath, Gokak CMC Commissioner said, "We have formed 4 expert teams to catch the dog. We will catch it as soon as possible." Chidannand Gidnvar, resident, said that this was not the first time such an incident was reported in Gokak. "Earlier too many such incidents had taken place. I had urged the CMC to take serious action for tackling the menace of stray dogs. But CMC only takes temporary measures," he said. ENS

PROTESTS, PILLAR MISHAP HALT TRAFFIC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MAJOR areas in the city came to a halt after protests, processions and a devastating incident which claimed the lives of a mother and son.

Early morning, city traffic police issued an advisory informing about diversions for vehicles travelling to KSR Station till Freedom Park due to protests from Bengaluru City Railway station till Freedom Park.

Shruti Somaiya, a management professional, said, the protests near Majestic stretched her travel time to 1.5 hour from the Bangalore Golf Club till the railway station, and questioned the authorities of giving permission for protests during peak hours.

In HBR Layout and Outer Ring Road, traffic was hit after the mother and son duo were killed after an under construction Metro pillar collapsed on them while they were riding pillion on a bike. Residents and commuters staged a protest following the incident.

MA Saleem, special commissioner, traffic, said 450 traffic police officers have been deployed to decongest several parts of the city. The traffic police redirected most of the traffic to the central part, near Vidhana Soudha area.

BJP worker 'accidentally' shot dead by poachers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hassan

A BJP worker was 'accidently' shot dead by poachers in Tambalageri of Sakleshpur taluk on Monday evening. The deceased has been identified as Naveen (39) of the same village. Naveen collapsed on the spot after receiving bullet injuries on his chest while two others who accompanied him were injured in the incident.

The incident occurred when Naveen was fishing, along with Dayananda and Padmanabha, in the backwaters of Hemavathi reservoir adjacent to the forest area where the miscreants often hunt animals.

The villagers rushed to the spot immediately after hearing the bullet sound and shifted injured Dayananda and Padmanabha to the taluk hospital where they are undergoing treatment.

Naveen is survived by his wife and a four-year-old daughter. A dog squad was pressed into service and an FSL team from Mysuru visited the spot.

Brushing aside political conspiracy or personal grudge, SP Hariram Shankar said Naveen was killed in an accidental fire as a bullet pierced Naveen's chest when the miscreants were hunting in the same area. The police have interrogated one Rajachari who stood away from the spot in this connection.

The police have arrested two persons and one among them had been involved in a similar incident in the area. The police also have information that one Anil Kumar of the same village had carried the weapon belonging to his friend Nagaraj and returned the same in the night.

However, the police will come up with an exact reason for the incident soon, he added.

No response yet on state's 30L vax demand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

The Karnataka Health Department is still awaiting for a response from the Union government on the quantity and timeline for the delivery of Covid-19 vaccine doses. The department had sought 30 lakh doses and was expecting to receive them last week.

Deputy Director (immunisation) Dr Rajani said they have not received any communication from the Centre regarding how many vaccines will be delivered to the state and by what time. "We are waiting for a response from the Centre," she added. With the surge in Covid-19 cases in countries like China, USA, Japan and South Korea, India started taking measures to ensure preparedness against another expected wave in December. To ensure sufficient vaccines, the state health department wrote to the Union Health Ministry seeking 30 lakh doses of vaccines (25 lakh of Covishield and 5 lakh Corbevax).

A vaccine shortage has been reported in all hospitals in Karnataka.

KALASA-BANDURI

Goa forester issues notice to K'taka

Chief wildlife warden says project site falls within jurisdiction of Mahadayi Wildlife Sanctuary

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

EVEN as the state government is inching closer to implement the Kalasa-Banduri project after the central government cleared the revised detailed project report (DPR), Goa Chief Minister Pramod Sawant said the chief wildlife warden of Goa has issued a stop-work notice to the Karnataka government as the project site falls within the jurisdiction of Mahadayi Wildlife Sanctuary.

Warning that action would be initiated if response is not filed to the notice, the Goa government "directed" the Karnataka government to stop the diversion of the flow of Kalasa and Banduri rivulets and also the construction of dams, canals and other structures in the wildlife sanctuary.

On Tuesday, a team from the Ministry of Environment and Forest (MoEF) inspected the forest lands where the project will be implemented. Sources said MoEF will grant forest and environment clearances to Karnataka as the forest land to be used under the project has been reduced drastically in the revised DPR. As per the revised DPR, the forest land that falls under the Kalasa project has come down from 166 hectares to 37 hectares and for Banduri project, it has been reduced from 183 hectares to 24 hectares, they said.

A team of the Ministry of Environment and Forest (MoEF) and state forest officials at the Kalasa-Banduri project site on the Goa border on Tuesday | EXPRESS

"The MoEF team suggested several measures to avoid damage to forest and wildlife and said it is possible to avoid cutting of thousands of trees by laying underground electric cables. Several top forest department officials briefed the team about the measures being taken by the state government. The team will visit Telsang, near Athani, on Wednesday to inspect a vast stretch of land being allotted by the state government to the Forest Department as a replacement for the forest land to be used,'' a top forest official said.

In his tweet on Tuesday, Sawant said, "Had a very productive meeting with members of Mhadei Bachao Abhiyan (MBA) in Panaji. Explained to them in detail about the efforts taken by the government on all fronts to safeguard Goa's interests regarding Mhadei."

Goa's Chief Wildlife Warden Saurabh Kumar, in his show-cause notice to the state, said, "Kalasa and Banduri nallas flow through the Mahadayi Wildlife Sanctuary and that Kalasa rivulet is one of the sources of water for the said sanctuary. Under Section 29 of the Wildlife (Protection) Act of 1972 there is a complete prohibition to divert any flow of water outside the sanctuary. It has come to our knowledge that you (Karnataka govt) plan to stop/divert or reduce the flow of water of Kalasa and Bandura rivulets into the Mahadayi Wildlife Sanctuary."

Exercising powers conferred under Section 29 of Wildlife (Protection) Act of 1972, he said, "I call upon you to show cause as to why action under the said Act should not be initiated against you for having violated Section 29 and why appropriate directions/orders should not be issued against you. Your reply should reach this office within 30 days of the receipt of this notice, failing which appropriate orders/directions shall be issued against you under the Act."

Inspector suspended for false case against 2 women

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A police inspector, who was working at Cottonpet police station earlier, has been suspended on charges of registering a fake case of robbery against three people, including two women, at the behest of 'Santro' Ravi, a con man who is facing several criminal cases and who was allegedly brokering police transfers.

Praveen KY, who was transferred recently, is the suspended inspector. A 27-year-old woman, who filed a rape case against Manjunath KS alias 'Santro Ravi' at Vijayanagar police station in Mysuru on January 2, had alleged in her complaint that Praveen had foisted a false case against her, her 20-year-old sister and another person. Based on her complaint, DG&IGP Praveen Sood had ordered an inquiry and after it was established that Inspector Praveen had registered a false case, his suspension orders were issued on Tuesday.

Sources said the inspector, who had allegedly contacted Ravi earlier seeking help for his transfers, had created a fake case and circumstantial evidence against the sisters. "The case was registered on November 22, in which complainant Prakash claimed that he had given Rs 5 lakh to the woman after receiving post-dated cheques. The woman asked him to come to Railway Bridge near Khoday's Circle on November 22 evening and when he went, there was some altercation. He alleged that the woman, her sister and another person assaulted him and snatched his gold chain and cash," an officer said.

Praveen arrested the sisters on November 25 and they were in judicial custody for about 20 days before a court granted them bail. "As part of the inquiry, people involved in the case were questioned and it was found that Inspector Praveen had made complainant Prakash enact the robbery scene when the women were not present. He had managed to get their mobile phones with Ravi's help and used them as technical evidence to show that they were present at the scene," the officer said.

The woman, who claimed that Ravi had married her after raping her but had deserted her, said that she had several issues with Ravi, who decided to teach her a lesson by foisting a fake case. It is said that Ravi asked Praveen to book the woman in the case after she allegedly stole his laptop, which reportedly contained incriminating materials related to his dealings.

CM: RAVI HAS 20-YR HISTORY. WHO WAS IN POWER THEN?

HUBBALLI: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said, "'Santro' Ravi has 20 years of history. Which government was in power and with whom the accused had connections?" He said, "Instructions have been given to the police to confiscate the assets of the accused and to probe his misdeeds. It will bring out the truth."

Lookout circular issued to nab Ravi, says ADGP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

CLARIFYING that there is no pressure in connection with the case involving 'Santro' Ravi, who is facing rape and other charges, apart from his alleged links with BJP ministers, ADGP Alok Kumar on Tuesday said that a lookout circular has already been issued in order to arrest him soon.

Speaking to reporters after meeting senior police officers, and complainants in the case, Kumar said a case has been already registered in the Vijaynagar police station.

"It's been eight days since he is absconding and we have constituted a team to secure him. Teams are looking into his whereabouts in Mysuru, Mandya, Ramanagara and Bengaluru, while his house in Rajarajeshwarinagar in Bengaluru was also searched. We are gathering information about his bank accounts and other details and are also looking into the aspects of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act," he said.

He further said that proper action will be taken against him, and the team is ensuring that the investigation is watertight. Meanwhile, sources close to the investigation revealed that the police suspect that he has fled to the Andamans. One of the victims who met the ADGP told reporters that all the evidence she had with her was shown to the police. "The accused is available to his advocates and is in constant touch with them, but the police are unable to trace him," the victim mentioned.

Reddy assets: HC raps govt for sitting on CBI request

ENS @Bengaluru

EXPRESSING displeasure over the state government for a delay in giving consent to the CBI to attach properties acquired by former minister G Janardhan Reddy and his family members in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana from the proceeds of illegal mining, the Karnataka High Court on Tuesday sought a response from the government.

Observing that it is shocking that CBI is before the high court with such a prayer, Justice M Nagaprasanna asked why the state government is sitting on a request submitted in August last year, for attachment of properties worth Rs 19 crore. It said the state had on an earlier occasion considered the CBI's request and given consent for attachment of properties worth Rs 65 crore. The government cannot act indifferently just because influential persons are involved, he added, adjourning the hearing to January 12.

CBI special counsel P Prasanna Kumar submitted that the agency probed the illegal mining scam, according to apex court directions, and filed a chargesheet against Reddy and others for causing a loss of Rs 198 crore to the state exchequer. He submitted that the CBI had identified Reddy's properties worth Rs 65 crore, and the state had given its consent to seek their attachment. After further inquiry, CBI identified other properties worth Rs 19 crore, and submitted a representation to the chief secretary in August 2022, seeking consent for attachment. Despite this, the representation was not acted upon. The accused is now making hectic efforts to dispose of these properties, hence there is urgency, he argued.

CONG TO LAUNCH PRAJADHWANI BUS YATRA FROM BELAGAVI TODAY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OPPOSITION Congress leaders' 'Prajadhwani yatra' to highlight what they called the State Government's failures and the party's vision for the development will start from Belagavi on Wednesday.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar, former chief minister Siddaramaiah and other senior leaders will attend programmes in Belagavi and Chikkodi on the first day of the yatra. They will take a Sankranti break from January 12 to 15 and resume the yatra from January 16.

"During the bus yatra, we will highlight failures of the BJP government and our vision for Karnataka," Shivakumar told reporters during a joint press conference with Siddaramaiah and other senior leaders. The party released a booklet on various allegations against the BJP government and launched a website to gather views from people.

The government failed on all fronts and corruption is rampant, Shivakumar said and added that the BJP government has not fulfilled 550 of the 600 promises made during the last elections.

KPCC chief D K Shivakumar launches a bus that will traverse through the state, as part of the Prajadhwani Yatra, in Bengaluru on Tuesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Siddaramaiah said Basavaraj Bommai is a weak CM who has failed to protect the state's interest. In its interim report, the 15th Finance Commission recommended the release of Rs 5,495 crore special grants to the state, but Finance Minister Nirmala Sitaraman, who is elected to Rajya Sabha from Karnataka rejected that recommendation, Siddaramaiah said. The recommendation was left out in the final report as neither the State Government nor 25 BJP MPs from the state put pressure on the Centre, he said.

The former CM said due to a reduction in the grants from the Centre, development works in the state have taken a hit and the state's debt burden increased.

Siddraramaiah said people of Karnataka are disgusted with the government and during the yatra, the party leaders will try to understand their problems and expectations.

In the first phase of the yatra, Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar will visit all the districts. In the second phase, they will split into two teams to cover all the Assembly segments.

Ravi operated from Kumara Krupa, was booked in by KSTDC ex-official

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WHILE it is certain that 'Santro' Ravi operated from rooms in Kumara Krupa guesthouse, right under the nose of the government, questions are being raised as to who booked him in almost on permanent basis.

TNIE found that Ravi's bookings were routed through a KSTDC officer, 'Devaraj Sir'. The officer has since been transferred out of KSTDC, but has ensured that Ravi lives in the guesthouse for almost the entire year. This violates the rules, which mandate that a person cannot stay beyond five days, and to continue on the sixth day, will need special permission or a rebooking.

Former CM H D Kumaraswamy said Devaraj was placed directly under an officer of the rank of joint secretary in the government, who was holding charge of KSTDC.

Government sources explained that private parties pay Rs 1,500 per head per day, while state government officers pay Rs 400, while MLAs and Central officials pay Rs 600. Santro Ravi, a private person, was allocated a room through a network handled by Devaraj. Sources said even when a guest is occupying a room, a break is shown to satisfy official requirements.

Ravi was not the only one who had made Kumara Krupa his home. It is said many 'wheeler-dealers' live undisturbed in the guesthouse, built as a massive 180-room facility. "Santro Ravi was not the only one, but just one of the network of fixers," sources said. A source said ministers and bureaucrats operate through this network, of which Santro Ravi is just a part.

Siddu will face defeat in Kolar, say JDS, BJP leaders

V VELAYUDHAM @Kolar

A day after Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah announced that he will contest from the Kolar Assembly constituency, JDS official candidate CMR Srinath on Tuesday said it is a wrong decision and the former chief minister will burn his fingers as he has chosen the constituency without conducting a proper survey.

Srinath told The New Indian Express that he has been working hard in the constituency over the last several years. In the 2018 Assembly elections, JDS candidate K Srinivasa Gowda won with a thumping majority, only because of the identity of the party, and not due to his work in the constituency. "This election too, people will choose a local candidate. The good governance given by former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy will benefit me," he said.

BJP leader Varthur Prakash, who has won twice from Kolar, said that Siddaramaiah will face the same fate as former MP from Congress KH Muniyappa, who lost the last Lok Sabha polls in Kolar. "Congress leaders have passed on wrong information to Siddaramaiah. He will be defeated," he added.

BJP ticket aspirant Om Sakthi Chalapathy, who unsuccessfully contested on a BJP ticket in the last Assembly election, said the party has a good hold over the constituency as has been proved by BJP's success in the parliamentary elections. Not all communities will support Siddaramaiah as he is no way connected with Kolar seat. He has chosen a wrong constituency, said Chalapathy. Siddaramaiah will not be able to woo voters as he does not know any panchayat leaders, he added.

No auditing of GPs, ULBs, varsities for want of staff

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Audit and Accounts Department (KSAAD) is hit by a severe staff crunch. Of the 4,564 sanctioned posts, almost 50 per cent posts have been lying vacant, adversely affecting the auditing of gram panchayats, urban local bodies and universities across the state. Authorities are forced to undertake random auditing and not the complete auditing of these agencies.

According to data available with TNIE, of the 4,564 sanctioned posts, only 2,400 posts are filled, which accounts to 48 per cent vacancy in the department. Of these, Group C and Group D constitute more vacancies. The Group C cadre includes account auditor, account superintendent and account assistant posts who play an important role in auditing.

Speaking to TNIE, a senior official said each organisation is audited by man days. The GP is audited for four to six days, while urban local bodies take 400 to 600 days. The number of days depend on the number of transactions. Higher the transactions, more the number of man days. "Since we have less number of staff, we either take more days to complete the auditing or most of the time we go for random auditing which might not be accurate," the official added. This apart, the existing staff is overburdened as their workload is almost doubled. "In some cases, we depute officials for auditing to different agencies or places if we find they are lagging behind," said another official. Recently, the state government approved to recruit 242 first division assistants, 67 second division assistants, 54 auditors and 43 assistant controllers. The Finance Department also gave its nod. However, this process is likely to take some time.

FARMERS IN WAIT

Land unavailable, govt's food parks project yet to take off

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

THE state government's ambitious programme to set up a food park in each district, which would have helped farmers earn better profits, has taken a backseat as land is not available in many districts.

The state government announced in 2022 that such parks would be set up in 20-50 acres of land in each district. But the Agriculture Department failed to get such big plots and has now pared down the requirement to 10 acres. Once set up, these food parks would have processing and cold storage units, warehouses, weighbridges and more. The government will provide all basic facilities, including power connection and water supply, to those interested in setting up units in these parks. The land will be given on lease.

Agriculture Minister BC Patil told The New Indian Express that the food parks will help farmers through Farmers Produce Organisations (FPOs). "The government will procure the land. We are looking for ten acres in each district, but we are yet to get it. We have told the officials to use whatever land is available with the Agriculture Department. FPOs can set up processing and other units that will generate additional income for farmers. Food parks will have all facilities to help them market and trade their produce," he said.

Karnataka has 1,200 FPOs, each with around 1,000 farmer-members. "We provide them loans and subsidies. The purpose of food parks is to make farmers grow, process, pack, brand and market their produce, which will improve their profit margins substantially. It will also prevent middlemen. We want to turn farmers into entrepreneurs, and treat agriculture as an industry. We want them to see profit," he added.

The minister has now directed deputy commissioners concerned to identify the land. "We hope to start the food parks in the next two months," he added.

Pongal invite by TN Guv sparks fresh row

T MURUGANANDHAM @Chennai

DAYS after Governor R N Ravi triggered a controversy by saying that 'Tamizhagam' is the more appropriate name for the state than Tamil Nadu, an invitation issued by the Raj Bhavan on Tuesday for 'Pongal Peruvizha' on January 12 carries the emblem of Government of India (G0I) and not the customary Tamil Nadu state emblem. Raj Bhavan officials could not be reached for comments despite repeated attempts.

CPM MP Su Venkatesan, in a tweet on Tuesday, posted the invitation sent by the Governor last year for Tamil New Year Day with the Tamil Nadu government emblem and the Pongal invitation issued by the Raj Bhavan on Tuesday with the GoI emblem. Strikingly, the invitation has also used the word 'Thamizhaga Aalunar' in place of the conventional 'Tamil Nadu Aalunar'. "Shall we expect the Governor to vacate Tamil Nadu as he has not used Tamil Nadu government's emblem and word Tamil Nadu since he is residing in a place maintained with the tax money of the people of the state," asked Venkatesan.

The new controversy came a day after Tamil Nadu Assembly witnessed an unprecedented showdown between Chief Minister MK Stalin and the Governor after Ravi skipped certain portions, including reference to 'Dravidian Model' of governance and names of late leaders, during his customary address to the House on Monday.

While the Governor's Thamizhagam-Tamil Nadu remark has been a hugely contested topic on social media with hashtag #TamilNadu trending for days on Twitter, the hashtag #GetOutRavi started trending on Twitter on Monday after the assembly faceoff.

Sara Aboobacker, who wrote of injustice, passes away

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

VETERAN Kannada novelist, essayist and translator Dr Sara Aboobacker passed away on Tuesday afternoon at a private hospital in Mangaluru. She was 86. She had been suffering from oral cancer and had recently undergone a surgery. She is survived by four sons.

Some of her noted works include 'Chandragiriya Theeradalli', 'Hottu Kanthuva Munna', 'Sahana', 'Vajragalu', 'Kadana Virama', 'Suliyalli Sikkavaru', 'Tala Odeda Doniyali', 'Pravaha-Suli', 'Panjara', '₹Ilijaru' and 'Kanike'.

Her mortal remains were kept for the public to pay homage at her residence at Hathill in Mangaluru, and the final rites were held at Zeenath Baksh Jumma Masjid at Bunder at 8pm.

Several writers and activists paid their last respects to the writer. Muneer Katipalla, state president, Democratic Youth Federation of India (DYFI) told TNIE that despite hailing from a conservative family and without proper education, Sara Abubakar was a rebel who wrote about injustice and inequality, based on her childhood.

"Through her writings, she made the outside world aware of the challenges of Muslim women. She encouraged Muslim girls to pursue education and opposed triple talaq. During the 1980s, she was behind the 'Muslim Progressive Conference'. She raised her voice against communalism, and when IGP Srikumar wrote a book on the Gujarat riots, she translated it into Kannada," he said.

Sara was born in a Malayalam-speaking family from Kasaragod to advocate P Ahmad and Zainabi on June 30, 1936. She was one of the first girls from her community in Kasargod to be educated, and graduate from a local Kannada school.

She bid goodbye to studies after marrying Aboobacker, an engineer. But Sara was always interested in reading and was addicted to the writings of Shivaram Karanth, Inamdar, Bhyrappa, UR Ananthamurthy and Vaikom Basheer. She had once stated that her desire to pursue education was constrained by community norms that restricted women from getting higher education.

Sara won several awards, including the Karnataka Sahitya Akademi award of honour, Rajyotsava award, Dana Chintamani Attimabbe award from the Karnataka government, Honorary Doctorate from Mangalore University, Bhasha Bharathi award from the Union government, and Baba Saheb Ambedkar award by Gorur Prathishtana.

Sara's son Mohammad Nassar, a retired assistant professor from the Fisheries College, told TNIE that he has preserved his mother's works in digital format, for the future generations to know about her.

Eve-teasing led to assault bid on Bajrang worker: SP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Shivamogga

THE case pertaining to an assault attempt on a Bajrang Dal worker in Sagar town on Monday has taken a new twist with the police issuing a clarification that the reason for the incident is personal enmity.

Meanwhile, the Sagar bandh called by the Hindutva outfit was total on Tuesday.

Superintendent of Police Mithun Kumar GK told reporters that the investigation into the case revealed that the Bajrang Dal worker, Sunil, was allegedly teasing Sameer's sister for the past five months. Enraged by this, Sameer tried to attack Sunil with a sharp weapon on Monday morning. The police arrested three persons, including Sameer, in connection with the case.

"What we have found so far is that Sunil was teasing Sameer's sister. Sameer had warned Sunil not to trouble his sister. But Sunil used to call Sameer and ask for his sister's phone number. When we verified the call records, Sameer's claims proved to be true," the SP said. Kumar said that on Monday morning, Sameer came out of a lodge and was trying to start his bike. "Sunil came to the spot and started arguing with Sameer. Sameer, who had a machete to cut grass for his goats, tried to assault Sunil with it," the SP said.

Addressing the media at Sagar, Sameer's sister alleged that Sunil used to tease her and tried to force her to stop wearing hijab. "Sunil was forcing me to convert. I had informed my brother about it. My brother might have threatened Sunil, but had no intention to attack him," she said and appealed to the police to release him.

SHOPS SHUT

The bandh call at Sagar was total. Shops remained closed and vehicles went off the road. Bajrang Dal activists took out a bike rally and a protest march. The police made elaborate security arrangements to prevent any untoward incident. Sagar Bharatiya Janata Party MLA Haratalu Halappa said the police will take stern action against those who take law into their hands.

IT'S COLD WAVE, BAGALKOT SHIVERS AT 5.6⁰C

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

With the mercury falling below 10 degrees Celsius in several parts of Karnataka, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) has sounded a cold wave alert for most parts of north interior and coastal districts for the next two days.

Bagalkot on Tuesday morning saw a minimum temperature of 5.6 degrees Celsius (9 degrees Celsius below normal). While Vijayapura recorded 7 degrees Celsius (9.1 degrees Celsius below normal), Bidar saw 7.5 degrees Celsius (8.2 degrees Celsius below normal). The minimum temperature in Ballari was 9 degrees Celsius and it was 9.9 degrees Celsius in Mandya. Shirguppi in Dharwad district recorded a minimum temperature of 5.8 degrees Celsius.

According to Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC), 194 stations in Karnataka recorded a minimum temperature below 10 degrees Celsius, including five locations in Bengaluru- Uttarahalli (9.4), Sulibele (8), Kanasawadi in Doddaballapur (9), and Tubagere (9.8). Cold wave conditions prevailed over Bidar, Vijayapura and Bagalkot districts of north interior Karnataka on Monday and Tuesday. While Bengaluru city experienced dry spell, the minimum temperature hovered around 14.3 degrees Celsius. The temperature was 13.8 degrees Celsius in HAL airport.

"Over the last two years, Bengaluru city has not experienced severe cold as in the past where the mercury would drop to 8-9 degrees Celsius. This is because of increasing concretisation. Bengaluru had recorded the lowest minimum of 7.9 degrees Celsius in 1884," an IMD official said.

A senior IMD official told TNIE that the alert has been issued as the minimum temperature has dropped below normal by 6-7 degrees Celsius in more than two stations for at least two days. Also, there is prevailing northerly winds.

The official also stated that the winter chill will die down after three days as the south-easterly winds will start to prevail due to the formation of troughs.

'Will decide on Mekedatu dam as per SC directives'

ANTONY FERNANDO @Karaikal

THE Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) will take a call on the Mekedatu dam as per the directives issued by the Supreme Court, said chairman Saumitra Kumar Haldar, after the CWMA and the Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWMC) carried an inspection of the rivers flowing through Karaikal district on Tuesday.

Accompanied by Public Works Department (PWD) officials from Puducherry and Tamil Nadu, the team inspected the Central Water Commission (CWC) gauging stations of rivers present at the border between Karaikal and Tamil Nadu as well as those situated away from the border in Tamil Nadu.

Speaking to the press on the current CWMA stance on the conflict surrounding the Mekedatu dam project, the chairman said, "The Karnataka government has proposed constructing a dam, and the Tamil Nadu government has approached the Supreme Court against it. We're committed to abiding by the Supreme Court's directions. If the court leaves the decision to us, then we'll discuss."

Earlier, the team interacted with Karaikal farmers and heard their grievances. P Rajenthiran, a representative of the Karaikal Regional Farmer's Welfare Association said, "The CWMA should ensure that it controls the management of the Cauvery. It should ensure that Karnataka shares water on proportions fixed for each month. It should also ensure that Karaikal farmers receive water for kuruvai cultivation."

Tamil Nadu releases 7tmcft from the Cauvery to Puducherry each year for irrigation. Saumitra Kumar Haldar added that the CWMA will convene their next meet this month.

G20 meeting: EAM officials visit Hampi

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@ Hosapete

IN the run-up to the G20 meet which is scheduled to be held in India in July this year, a team of six members headed by the joint secretary of Ministry of External Affairs (EAM) visited Hampi and held a meeting with the deputy commissioners of three districts. Hampi is one of the venues for the high-profile event.

The team visited various places, gathered information and held a meeting with Vijayanagara, Ballari and Koppal district administration authorities, recently.

T Venkatesh, deputy commissioner of Vijayanagara, said, "As many as 200 guests from all G20 nations will participate in the event to be held in Hampi. The officials who inspected various places in Hampi last week liked the Vijaya Vittala Temple premises, Virupaksha Temple and Edaru Basavannana Temple premises. But we have not yet finalised the venue of the meet. A few more meetings with the local administrations will be held in the coming days," he added.

Another official said that the G20 meet will be held at many ASI-protected sites, including Hampi. "Marking India's G20 presidency, 100 selected monuments in India, including Hampi, will be decorated with lighting. Another team is expected to visit Hampi soon," he added.

423 km of TN coast eroding: Report

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Chennai

IT seems that Tamil Nadu government's efforts in the past two decades to address the problem of coastal erosion by building hundreds of hard structures like groynes, seawalls and breakwaters haven't yielded desired results as the latest shoreline changes assessment report released on Tuesday throws-up alarming facts. Of the 991.47 km of Tamil Nadu's coastline mapped, a whopping 422.94 km (42.7%) continues to experience erosion and now the state policy makers are grappling for more nature-based soft or hybrid solutions.

The shoreline changes assessment along Tamil Nadu coast was conducted by National the Centre for Coastal Research (NCCR) as part of National Shoreline Assessment System. The report was released by EV Velu, Minister for Public Works, Highways and Minor Ports Department at a workshop on "Marine Spatial Planning for Tamil Nadu", which was attended by multiple stakeholders.

According to the report, Tamil Nadu ranks fourth in India experiencing worst coastal erosion after West Bengal (60.5%), Puducherry (56.2%) and Kerala (46.4%). Overall during 1990 and 2018, Tamil Nadu has lost 1,802 hectares of land due to erosion. The worst affected district is Ramanathapuram, which lost 413.37 ha, followed by Nagapattinam 283.69 ha and Kancheepuram 186.06 ha. On the other hand, Chennai lost just 5.03 ha.

NCCR director MV Ramana Murthy, who is also a member of Expert Appraisal Committee (CRZ) of Union environment ministry, said in recent years, the hard structures due to their negative impacts are discouraged, instead 'soft' alternatives like beach nourishment is becoming favourable. Hybrid solutions with a combination of hard and soft solutions are implemented to minimise the impact of these man-made structures. The artificial reef project, which brought back the Puducherry beach to life is a standout example.

2 kids drown in tank at Saundatti

Belagavi:Two children playing near an under-construction building at Saundatti drowned in an open water tank and died on Tuesday noon. The victims are Shlok Basalingappa Gudi (4) and Chidanand Prakash Salunkhe (4), both residents of Saundatti town. According to police sources, the duo was playing in a temple situated near the under-construction building. There was an open tank constructed in front of the building and water was stored in it. The incident came to light when the parents started searching for the kids. A case has been registered at Saundatti police station.

TTD limits SRIVANI tickets to 1,000/day

Tirupati: Keeping in view the darshan priority of common people, the TTD has limited the total number of SRIVANI tickets to 1,000 tickets per day. Out of 1,000 tickets, 750 to be made available online while 250 tickets be made available in the current booking counter at the Tirupati Airport. Already, TTD has released 500 tickets online and the additional 250 will be released on January 11. The TTD has dispensed with the SRIVANI ticket issuing services in Madhavam Rest House. Henceforth, the offline tickets will be issued only in the Tirupati Airport Counter to the SRIVANI donors on production of their boarding pass.

3 inscriptions of 7th & 9th centuries found in AP

SRI KRISHNA KUMMARA
@Tirupati

THREE rare inscriptions dating back to the 7th and 9th centuries (Common Era) were unearthed at Kottareddivaripalli village in Madanapalle taluk of Annamayya district on Sunday. Villagers noticed the inscriptions on agricultural lands on the outskirts of the Kottareddivaripalli. The pictures of the inscriptions, engraved on a stone, were later sent to the archaeology department in Vijayawada and further forwarded to epigraphists in Mysore. It was then confirmed that the inscriptions belonged to the Renati Chola and Vaidumba dynasties.

ASI director Munirathnam Reddy explained that while one of the three inscriptions is a Dana Sasanam (Gift of Land), the other two are heroic inscriptions.

GOVERNOR-GOVERNMENT BATTLE IN TN TAKES A TURN FOR THE WORSE

Governors and state governments run by the opposition going on a collision course are increasingly on the rise, but what the Tamil Nadu assembly witnessed on the first day of the session will go down in the history of Indian democracy as unprecedented. Several elements made the day dramatic: Guv's move to delete portions from the prepared speech and add his bit, a quick resolution by the chief minister in protest, and a walkout by the former. Currently sitting on two dozen bills the assembly passed, the governor has taken the tussle to the point of no immediate return.

As someone who always raised concerns about TN's law-and-order situation, he chose to omit a line that glorified the state as a haven of peace. But what has stumped many is his 'discretionary' power to skip a vital assertion that the state government is founded on the ideals of social justice, inclusive growth, equality and secularism. He also left out another important declaration that following the principles and ideals of stalwarts like E V Ramasamy, B R Ambedkar, Kamarajar, Annadurai and Karunanidhi, the government has been delivering the much-acclaimed Dravidian model of governance to its people.

It has thrown up a huge debate on the role of governors. Do they have the right to add and delete parts of the customary speech, which is a vision statement of the government? In 2018, the then Kerala governor P Sathasivam avoided certain portions of the budget speech, which appeared to be critical of the Central government and the ruling party. The speaker subsequently ruled that portions the Guv skipped would be considered read. After creating a massive fire and smoke, the controversy died a slow natural death. In 2020, Kerala governor Arif Mohammad Khan too went past his brief. The state government was at loggerheads with both Sathasivam and Khan.

Some governors are unwilling to go by convention and old practices. The fact is that a governor's discretionary powers are scattered in the Constitution and are not codified. They derive their powers from Article 163 of the Constitution. But in the Ram Jawaya Kapur vs State of Punjab case, the apex court has elucidated the Constitutional position of the governor. He is the head of the executive in the state, but it is virtually the council of ministers in each state that carries on the executive government. A Governor's duty is defined by constitutionality and the oath of office.

URGENT NEED TO GET ON WITH CENSUS PROCESS

Questions are being raised about the validity of official data as the figures available from the census of 2011 are hugely outdated. The decennial census, held every ten years since the British first kicked off the exercise in 1881, was to start in 2021, but it has been postponed indefinitely for the first time in history. The collection of data in two phases—first, on housing and household-related issues, and the second, on a spectrum spanning population, education, religion, caste, language literacy and fertility—is a massive exercise involving lakhs of trained enumerators. They ask a long list of questions ranging from the size of the family to whether it uses a toilet and has an internet connection. The postponement of the census, which starts on the same day throughout the country, has left these questions unanswered. India has rapidly grown since 2011, and essential socio-economic data is 12 years old and largely obsolete.

Census data is a crucial tool for economic and fiscal planning, and the lack of up-to-date information can skew targets and deployment of resources. This may also negatively impact large swathes of the population. For instance, welfare schemes such as subsidised food supply under the National Food Security Act may reach families that have fallen into poverty in the intervening years since 2011. The Census exercise, slated to start in early 2021, was initially postponed since the boundaries of states were not frozen; and the home ministry said that Covid-19 had made groundwork impossible.

Now Covid is behind us. But how does one explain Minister of State for Home Affairs Nityanand Rai's statement in the Rajya Sabha last December 14 that the census has been "postponed till further orders" because of the pandemic and other factors? With the Lok Sabha poll coming up in 2024, it is unlikely things will move. From the government's point of view, just as well! New census data may expose many of the government's claims. For instance, 'Housing for All' was to have been achieved for all urban areas by 2022. Or, the BJP government has claimed that India's villages are now 'open-defecation free'. Both claims may be so much kite-flying. One can now only appeal to the government's sense of propriety to rise above politics and ensure the delayed census gets going. Good planning depends on robust, up-to-date data, and no compromises should be allowed.

QUICK TAKE

POLICE NEED MANDATORY KEVLARS

A Delhi Police ASI was fatally stabbed last week by a criminal he apprehended for snatching a woman's chain. Sadly, the ASI wasn't wearing a Kevlar vest—the soft armour wrap. Many police personnel succumb to stabbings and firings annually. These jackets are reserved only for significant operations. But criminals' easy access to modern firearms makes it imperative that even the beat police officers wear the life-saving kevlar. They should also carry taser guns to neutralise criminals and avoid violent encounters. These tools must figure at the top of the modern gadgets to equip the police force in the country.

While governments of many countries spend a higher share of GDP on education, India still lags

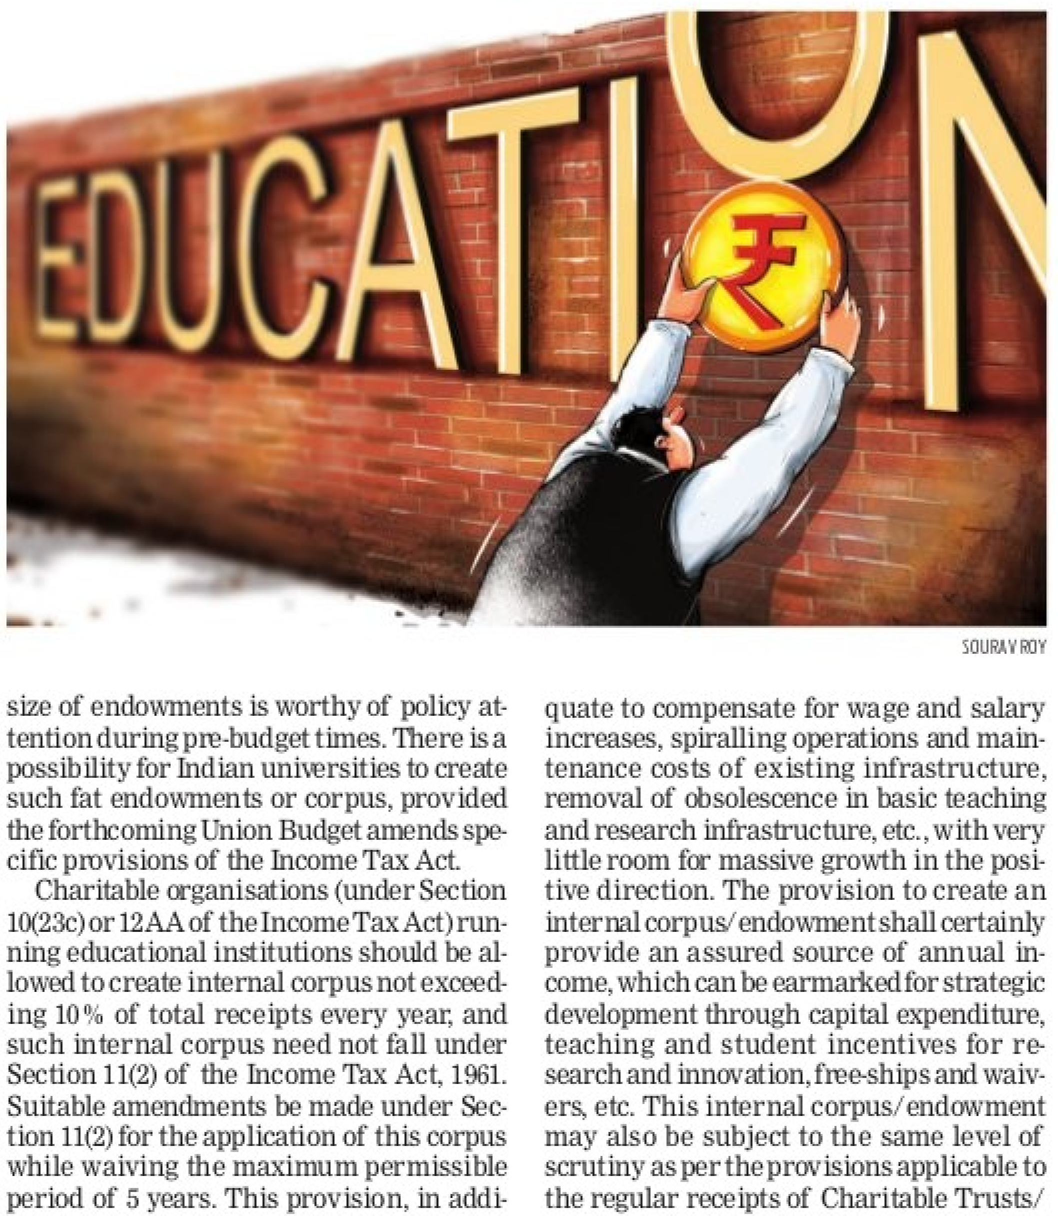
EDUCATION AWAITS FINANCE MINISTER'S GRACE MARKS

DR S VAIDHYASUBRAMANIAM

Vice-chancellor and Tata Sons Chair Professor of Mgmt, SASTRA University

Public and private spending on education and tax incentives to educational institutions has been the twin-engine powering transformation of knowledge societies worldwide. While imparting education has been considered a State duty, many countries have allowed private educational institutions to share the burden and discharge public good on the state's behalf. There is policy consistency in the treatment of budgetary expenditure on education by the sovereign powers and the statutory exemption on income received by private educational institutions. While on the budget allocations, there is always an Oliver who asks for more, on the income exemption, there is another who asks for more. While one asks for more budgetary allocation, the other, like me, asks for more but reasonable exemptions. It's the second Oliver writing further.

There is global parity among governments in treating the income of educational institutions—schools, colleges and universities. They have exempted the income received by approved educational institutions from federal income tax. Indian tax law is no exception to this global convention. While governments of many countries spend a substantially higher share of GDP on education, India still lags. The allocation of 6% of GDP to education, as recommended and advocated since the Kothari Commission in 1964–66, is still a distant reality. This has also been reiterated by the National Education Policy 2020. But with a challenging tax-GDP ratio, such an allocation will take more time due to expenditure-side constraints. However, on the exemption side, there is room for improvisation to provide much-needed relief to educational institutions. Here are some data and facts before I put forward my budget expectations.



SOURAV ROY

The National Association of College and University Business Officers and the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America conduct an annual study on university and college endowments. From its recent report, the combined value of major universities' and colleges' endowments end of June 30, 2021 is a whopping $825 billion. The top 10 universities' endowment is about $350 billion. Harvard tops the list, followed by the University of Texas, Yale, Stanford, Princeton and others. The study also reports a 35% boom in University endowments with a median return close to 30% as against a median return of 1.8% end of fiscal 2020. This 30% annual return from the endowments alone is more than the most recent union budget allocation on education. While returns are unpredictable, the size of endowments is worthy of policy attention during pre-budget times. There is a possibility for Indian universities to create such fat endowments or corpus, provided the forthcoming Union Budget amends specific provisions of the Income Tax Act.

Charitable organisations (under Section 10(23c) or 12AA of the Income Tax Act) running educational institutions should be allowed to create internal corpus not exceeding 10% of total receipts every year, and such internal corpus need not fall under Section 11(2) of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Suitable amendments be made under Section 11(2) for the application of this corpus while waiving the maximum permissible period of 5 years. This provision, in addition to the existing 15% accumulation of non-applied income, will go a long way in building institutions with long-term vision. The current 15% accumulation is just adequate to compensate for wage and salary increases, spiralling operations and maintenance costs of existing infrastructure, removal of obsolescence in basic teaching and research infrastructure, etc., with very little room for massive growth in the positive direction. The provision to create an internal corpus/endowment shall certainly provide an assured source of annual income, which can be earmarked for strategic development through capital expenditure, teaching and student incentives for research and innovation, free-ships and waivers, etc. This internal corpus/endowment may also be subject to the same level of scrutiny as per the provisions applicable to the regular receipts of Charitable Trusts/Societies under sections 11, 12 and 13 of the Income Tax Act. This will ensure that not only the money stays within the system but also the annual endowment income created will be utilised for advancing education and, more importantly, deter institutions from engaging in avoidable expenditure to meet the 85% target on the application of income.

The splurge of economic activity and the banks' hesitancy to provide credit facilities to Trusts running educational institutions at competitive rates is creating a crowding out effect making access to long-term credit capital challenging. While the Centrally Funded Technical Institutions have formal access to the Higher Education Financing Agency (thanks to the 2017 Union Budget), others do not have such benefits despite doing comparably good work. It is also not a good practice to increase tuition fees in the name of expansionary financing. Under these circumstances, along the lines of HEFA, it is requested that a bank consortia-based lending is given to the top 100 NIRF-ranked institutions through foreign currency loans that are available at competitive rates. The Government of India can guarantee such loans through the Ministry of Education with back-to-back agreements with the borrower institutions linked to their performance and high exit/default costs with stringent recovery mechanisms. This shall provide access to less expensive funds with longer repayment periods and a much-needed financial oxygen to progressive higher education institutions at the cusp of transformation, thanks to NEP 2020.

The recent judgments of the Supreme Court in the Noble Education Society & Ahmedabad Urban Development Authority cases have clearly laid down the law insofar as the operation of educational institutions and public charities are concerned. Armed with this double-barrelled artillery, the scrutiny by authorities will ensure that both requests, if favourably considered, will meet the highest standards of compliance by educational institutions with no fear of deviance. The terrain for progressive amendment is ready, and there is no better time appropriate than now and no better candidate other than educational institutions to whom the long pending budget relief needs to be sprinkled if not showered.

The recent foreign university draft regulations of UGC shall soon open the doors for foreign players, and Indian universities cannot be pushed to a non-level playing field. While we expect academic and administrative autonomy from UGC to level one side of the ground, where else can we go to level the other? In short: Education awaits the Finance Minister's grace marks.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO REDESIGN DRAFT DATA PROTECTION LAW

DR AMAR PATNAIK

Rajya Sabha MP and former CAG bureaucrat

The global arena of citizens' privacy regulation has experienced significant changes in the last few months. While the US Congress is in the final stages of formulating a privacy law, India recently withdrew its Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019 (PDP Bill), drawing wide criticism. However, the government has circulated a brand new bill for public consultation. But unfortunately, this new bill still retains the almost 40 years old antiquated Notice and Consent-based privacy framework despite this framework having globally failed to keep up with modern-day technology realities with over-emphasis on ex-ante compliance, leading to heavy compliance costs.

The N&C framework was first articulated in 1980 when computer technology was relatively new and OECD countries worried that automatic transfer of users' personal data without their knowledge and informed consent would threaten users' privacy rights. The OECD adopted 'Guidelines on the Protection of Privacy and Transborder Flows of Personal Data' under which a data processor was permitted to collect personal data only with the consent of the data principal. In a few years, the N&C framework became the de facto norm for data regulations globally and in 1995, the European Union (EU) incorporated this framework in its Directive 95/46/EC and later, in the EU General Data Protection Regulation (EUGDPR) too.

However, with exponential progress in complex and pervasive technologies such as Internet of Things, artificial intelligence, smart cities, screenless voice-based applications, the metaverse and social media in the last two decades, the N&C framework appeared slow and outdated to address evolving privacy concerns. Unlike in the 1980s, data transfer from a data principal is no longer a single-point transfer; data is collected and processed constantly as different uses evolve. Today information asymmetry cannot be bridged by a one-time informed consent of the N&C framework. Rather, data principals will have to make many micro-decisions over a period, possibly leading to consent fatigue for the data principal and heavy costs for businesses. Legal compliance for smaller companies and start-ups becomes extremely cumbersome and expensive in the N&C framework. As a result, they are disincentivized to innovate. The only way for companies to avoid these unnecessary costs is to draft overbroad and oversimplified consent terms and hope that they would not require consent for every tiny technology tweak. But this method risks user privacy. The user may not know how their data is used by the companies in the future.

The N&C model has become outdated for another reason: the difficulty of obtaining informed consent. Affordability of the internet has led to an exponential increase in its users and a massive shift in their profiles. India has over 800 million internet users (over 400 million smartphone users). Their personal data is collected when they use social media or avail essential services such as food delivery, banking and government schemes on a multitude of e-commerce and fintech platforms. A typical internet user today looks very different from the 1980s when the N&C framework was envisioned. Today, they consist of individuals who do not have technical knowledge of the enormous consequences, both good and bad, of their personal data's use. As a result, user consent is no longer informed with potential harms. It is equally unrealistic to expect informed consent from them, particularly when the terms of consent are often complex "take it or leave it" terms devoid of a meaningful choice. Users invariably accept the terms to avoid denial of service. Further, consent fatigue from repeated notices has resulted in consent becoming a matter of formality or a checkbox.

A modern privacy regulation must be a harm-based one. It must shift responsibility of privacy harms to data fiduciaries and processors

Modern technology has defeated the original objective of the N&C framework. The EU was fully cognizant of this in 2016. Thus, while adopting the EUGDPR, it attempted to de-emphasise the N&C framework by implementing consent-independent principles such as purpose limitation, use limitation, transparency, security, fair and reasonable processing, though retaining overall N&C frameworks. The Indian PDP Bill 2019 (now withdrawn) and even the latest Digital Personal Data Protection Bill 2022 have substantially adopted the EUGDPR.

It is time that the government shifts focus from a teleological process-based N&C framework and addresses the end-harms of modern-day big tech, be it privacy-related, psychological or community harm. A modern privacy regulation must be a harm-based one. It must shift responsibility of privacy harms to data fiduciaries and processors. When responsibility for harm shifts to data fiduciaries, they will automatically put in place requisite due diligence and internal control mechanisms including some form of consent to prevent privacy harm.

To enforce such an accountability regime penalising harms, the government must first gain a technical understanding of tech-related harms to successfully enforce latest safety standards and procedures.

First, the new privacy law must set up a standing consultation mechanism between technologists, lawyers and other stakeholders to define technology-related harms. This way, law and policy may be able to keep up with technology. Rather than relying on the N&C framework, the government must act as trustees for privacy and innovation and penalise privacy harms harshly. They should set up administrative safeguards such as strong data impact assessment and audit standards and update them regularly. Global privacy by design standards may also be made mandatory, a facet sorely lacking in the new bill.

Besides, software, products and social media corporates must be required to maintain algorithmic transparency. Algorithmic 'black boxes' obfuscate a corporate's business model and their impact on human privacy and rights. Transparency enables individuals to give informed consent.

Stalin vs Ravi

Apropos of Guv walks out over CM's resolution (Jan 10). The animosity between Stalin and Governor R N Ravi has come out into the open. This love-hate relationship has been simmering for a while, with Stalin making it abundantly clear that he is the head of the state. In other states too, governors are acting as the voice of the BJP. The Centre should reshuffle the governors of southern states immediately to prevent the animosity.

To report or not to report

The government's displeasure at TV networks for airing gory footage raises questions. If there is a gory incident in reality, are they not to report it? What has "good taste and decency" got to do with reporting facts? It seems to be an effort to browbeat social media to refrain from reporting news which may reflect negatively on the administration.

Village gets electricity

Apropos of Remote south Kashmir village lights up for the first time in 75 years (Jan 10). We live in a developing nation. Electricity has reached Dooru, a remote and hilly village in the Anantnag district of south Kashmir. The government should remember that many villages are still without electricity and basic necessities.

Brazil in a storm

Apropos of Brazil mobs storm, damage Parliament, Supreme Court (Jan 10). The attack on the Brazilian Parliament by the followers of ex-president Jair Bolsonaro is frightening for anyone who believes in democracy and the Rule of Law. A similar event took place in the USA on January 6, 2021. This dangerous trend is slowly spreading to other democracies. Countries should nip such nefarious activities in the bud before it is too late.

Fury of locals blocks demolition

Angry people foil plans to pull down 2 damaged hotels in Joshimath, demand compensation

NARENDRA SETHI AND SHRUTI KAKKAR @ Joshimath/ New Delhi

PLANS to begin demolition of damaged buildings in subsidence-hit Joshimath were stymied by protesting locals on Tuesday as they demanded adequate compensation.

As soon as the news of the decision to demolish two major hotels — Mount View and Malari Inn — reached the business community, a large number of people and traders gathered and shouted slogans outside the hotels.

So far, 723 buildings have been identified as damaged with 86 of them declared unsafe because of the land-slip in Joshimath. The town has a population of 20,000. In all, 462 people belonging to 131 families have been evacuated and housed in temporary relief camps.

The administration deployed an additional three companies of the State Disaster Response Force to deal with the fallout of the demolition. Pulling down Malari Inn and Mount View took priority as they were leaning towards each other, posing a threat to houses around them. But angry people shouted slogans demanding that the administration first arrange for their rehabilitation before pulling down the structures.

District Magistrate Himanshu Khurana told this newspaper, "Coordinating with the public and traders and keeping in mind their safety, the administration will take appropriate steps in public interest."

But Thakur Singh Rana, the owner of Malari Inn, along with his family, were not impressed. They sat in dharna outside the hotel. Rana, a former head of the area, alleged, "One-fourth of the cost of my hotel is being offered by the administration as compensation. How fair is that? I am against demolishing the hotel without evaluating it."

In Delhi, the Supreme Court rejected a plea for urgent listing of the Joishmath crisis, saying everything that is important in the country doesn't have to come to it. A bench headed by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud, while agreeing to list the plea on January 16, said democratic institutions were taking care of the situation on ground.

COMPLETE EVACUATION IS THE PRIORITY

Diaspora now a unique force in world, says Prez

ANURAAG SINGH @New Delhi

WHILE maintaining that the Indian Diaspora has become an important and unique force in the world and has grown into an energetic and confident community in every region, President Droupadi Murmu said that the Diaspora's collective power and potential will be a force-multiplier in the nation's inclusive development.

Addressing the valedictory session of the 17th Pravasi Bharatiya Divas (PBD), she said that the call of the soil of the Motherland is something that transcends the barriers of time and distance. While the Indian Diaspora has built enriching and productive lives in their adopted homes in different corners of the world, they would always hold a special place in our hearts: not only as extended family members, but as responsible stakeholders in India's development.

"The Indian Diaspora today has become an important and unique force in the global system. It has grown into an energetic and confident community in every region, and is making stellar contributions to world affairs in leadership positions. Our Diaspora has exhibited extraordinary dedication and hard work, and has overcome many challenges to achieve excellence in all walks of life — including art, literature, politics, sports, business, academics, philanthropy, science and technology."

She added that over the last two decades, the Pravasi Bharatiya Divas Convention has served as a unique platform to enable fruitful engagement between the Government, people of India and the Diaspora. After awarding the Pravasi Bharatiya Samman Awards to the distinguished people of Indian origin, she said these awards symbolise the nation's highest recognition of the Diaspora members for their contributions to India and in their home countries.

The valedictory session was also addressed by Union Minister for External Affairs S Jaishankar and Union Civil Aviation Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia.

DAC okays ₹4,276 cr defence purchases for Army and Navy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

IN the meeting of the Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) on Tuesday, the Acceptance of Necessity (AoN) was accorded for three capital acquisition proposals, amounting to ₹4,276 crore. All the three proposals — two of the Indian Army and one of the Indian Navy — are under the Buy (Indian-IDDM) category. The meeting was chaired by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh.

The Ministry of Defence in its statement said, "The DAC accorded AoN for procurement of HELINA Anti-Tank Guided Missiles, launchers and associated support equipment which will be integrated to the Advanced Light Helicopters (ALHs). This missile is an essential part of weaponisation of the ALH for countering enemy threats. Its induction will strengthen the offensive capability of the Indian Army."

"The DAC also accorded AoN for procurement of VSHORAD (IR Homing) missile system under design and development by DRDO," added the MoD.

As per the MoD, in view of the recent developments along the northern borders, there is a need to focus on effective Air Defence weapon systems which are man-portable and can be deployed quickly in rugged terrain and maritime domain. The procurement of VSHORAD as a robust and quickly deployable system will strengthen the Air Defence capabilities.

Further, the DAC granted approval for procurement of Brahmos Launcher and Fire Control System (FCS) for the Shivalik class of ships and Next Generation Missile Vessels (NGMVs) for the Indian Navy.

With their induction, said the MoD, the ships will have enhanced capability of carrying out maritime strikes, interdicting and destroying enemy's warships and merchant vessels.

'Buy (Indian-IDDM)' refers to the procurement of products from an Indian vendor that have been indigenously designed, developed and manufactured with a minimum of 50% Indigenous Content (IC) on cost basis of the total contract value.

The DRDO conducted two successful test-flights of the Very Short Range Air Defence System (VSHORADS) missile in September 2022 from a ground based portable launcher at the Integrated Test Range, Chandipur, off the coast of Odisha.

TN Guv skipped text approved by him, violated constitutional principle: CPM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

The Communist Party of India-Marxist on Tuesday disapproved of the 'unseemly actions' of the Tamil Nadu Governor RN Ravi for skipping portions of the address to the assembly prepared by the state government. A press statement issued on behalf of the Politburo by the party said, "In doing what he did, governor Ravi has brazenly violated the constitutional principle that the governor should act as the voice of the elected state government and the long-established convention that he reads out the complete text of the address prepared by the state government. It is now clear that portions of the text of the address which he preferred to skip were approved by him beforehand."

The tussle between the ruling Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK) and the Tamil Nadu Raj Bhavan hit a new low on Monday as the governor skipped portions of the government prepared customary address in the Assembly and Chief Minister M K Stalin piloted a resolution to exclude from the House records whatever he spoke outside the state-drafted speech.

Following Ravi's address, Stalin expressed regret on the governor skipping certain portions from the prepared address. The chief minister moved a resolution and it was adopted and Ravi left the House immediately.

SC to decide validity of Sec 6A of Citizenship Act

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday said that it would first decide the validity of Section 6A of the Citizenship Act, 1955 which grants citizenship to illegal immigrants, mostly from neighbouring Bangladesh, who entered Assam before March 1971.

The provision which was inserted in furtherance of a Memorandum of Settlement was signed by Rajiv Gandhi government with leaders of Assam Movement on August 15, 1985. Called as "Assam Accord", the settlement was signed for preserving and protecting Assamese culture, heritage, linguistic and social identity. This section granted rights and obligations of Indian citizens to foreigners who entered Assam before January 1, 1966, and been "ordinarily resident" in the State. It further said that the foreigners who entered the State between January 1, 1966 and March 25, 1971 would have the same rights and obligations except that they would not be able to vote for 10 years.

While hearing pleas preferred by Assam Public Works challenging section 6A of the Act, a five judge bench headed by CJI DY Chandrachud said, "Whether section 6A suffers from any constitutional infirmity? That covers everything. We'll frame that primarily as the issue. That doesn't stop us from framing other issues later."

The bench also comprising Justices MR Shah, Krishna Murari, Hima Kohli and PS Narasimha also granted the parties three weeks to prepare common compilations.

The pleas challenging the said provision contended that the same was discriminatory as it was in violation of article 6 of the Constitution. According to the said article, July 19, 1948 was fixed as cut off date for granting citizenship.

The SC on December 17, 2014 had framed 13 questions for the purpose of covering various issues that were raised challenging constitutionality of section 6A. In December 2015, the bench after framing 13 issues had referred them for adjudication.

All Omicron variants present, but no Covid surge recorded in India

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

INDIA has not seen a surge in Covid-19 cases despite the presence of all Omicron sub-variants, including those shooting up numbers in China and the US. Indian authorities had raised the alarm after a spike in Covid cases in neighbouring China and East Asia. They took several measures, including random testing of two per cent of international travellers and asking arrivals from hotspot countries like China, Japan, South Korea, Thailand and Hong Kong to carry Covid negative reports.

But except for Kerala, which reported a marginal rise in Covid cases, no other state has reported a hike since health authorities asked states to step up vigil and surveillance and warned of a surge in January.

Since December second week, India has reported less than 1,500 Covid cases, said NC Krishnaprasad, a Covid data analyst from Kerala.

He told this newspaper that "there has not been a significant rise in Covid cases and deaths across India."

From December 15 to 21, India reported 1069 Covid cases and 16 deaths. Similarly, from December 22 to 28, 1399 Covid cases and 17 deaths were registered. The following week (December 29 to Jan 4), 1404 Covid cases and 12 deaths were reported.

Rahul offers prayers at Golden Temple

Talks about farm distress, lack of development; Faces anti-Sikh jabs by BJP, SAD in Punjab

Rahul Gandhi at Golden Temple in Amritsar on Tuesday | PTI

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday started the Punjab leg of his Bharat Jodo Yatra with a visit to the Golden Temple. Sporting a Sikh turban, Rahul offered prayers at the gurudwara in Amritsar.

The foot march entered Punjab from Haryana through the Shambhu border. Meanwhile, Shiromani Akali Dal and Bharatiya Janata Party hit out at Rahul, calling him "anti-Sikh". Rahul, who landed at the Amritsar airport in the afternoon, was accompanied to the Golden Temple by Punjab Congress chief Amrinder Singh Raja Warring, leader of Opposition Partap Singh Bajwa, local MP Gurjit Singh Aujla and other party leaders.

Earlier in the morning, he resumed the yatra from Shahpur in Ambala Cantt during which he was joined by party leader Raj Babbar. The rally on Wednesday will pass through Mandi Gobindgarh and halt for the night at Khanna. Rahul targeted the BJP-led Haryana government, saying the government has been dividing Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs, farmers and non-farmers and people of different castes.

A message issued by him read, "The people of Haryana are blessed with everything they need for a good life. However, their potential is being wasted. The farmers of Haryana led the historic movement against the three black farm laws, and many were martyred. Still, the agricultural crisis endures. In the land of doodh, dahi and gur, it is a tragedy that farmers' children no longer want to be farmers."

He added that the Haryana has the "highest youth unemployment rate and desperate youth look abroad for jobs". Rahul also criticised GST and demonetisation, and pointed out that sports academies are being shut down in the state. "Not one person we met in Haryana could name a single step the BJP government has taken to solve these problems," he stated.

"Governments of past decades planted the seeds of development, which are yielding fruits now. Today's government is busy building a nafrat ka bazaar."

Meanwhile, SAD president Sukhbir Singh Badal said it was condemnable that Rahul Gandhi was leading the yatra in the state. "No one has damaged Punjab as much as the Gandhi family, which has a history of breaking India," he said.

"Former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi ordered the attack on the Golden Temple using tanks which led to the destruction of Akal Takht Sahib," Badal said, adding that Rajiv Gandhi engineered the 1984 genocide of Sikhs and even justified it by saying that when a big tree falls, the ground shakes. Sukhbir said that the Gandhi family is also responsible for robbing Punjab of its river waters and handing them over forcibly to Rajasthan.

The BJP'snational spokesperson Jaiveer Shergill too slammed Rahul, saying the Congress' anti-Sikh sentiment has not been washed away. "It has only flourished and nourished as time has passed," he said. On the other hand, Congress leader Jairam Ramesh hit out at the BJP for criticising former Army chief Gen. Deepak Kapoor after he participated in the yatra in Haryana.

Without taking any names, Ramesh said, "While there is diversity in our society, that is being misused so that society can be divided."

HIGH COURT STEPS IN

Raj Cong MLA's son arrested for gangraping minor

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE delayed arrest of an MLA's son in a gangrape case is causing a major embarrassment to the ruling Congress in Rajasthan. Deepak Meena, the son of Rajgarh-Laxmangarh MLA Johri Lal Meena, was named as one of the accused in the gangrape of a minor girl six months ago but the police had left him free.

However, a POCSO court turned down the police investigation and issued 17 warrants against Deepak but he was not arrested until Monday, when the Rajasthan High Court took a tough stand on the matter. The BJP is now targeting the Gehlot government for misuse of power.

The survivor registered a gangrape case against Deepak and his two friends in March 2022 in Mandawar police station area of Dausa district.

The class 10 student alleged that the accused first gangraped her on February 24, 2021. They then put pressure on her several times, blackmailed her using videos of the act and repeatedly gangraped her. The case was registered against Deepak and his accomplices, Vivek Sharma and Netram Samleti. The survivor's uncle had told the police that a young man named Vivek Sharma first befriended his niece on Facebook. Then after persuading her, she was called to a hotel where five accused, including Deepak, carried out the crime.

While all the other accused were arrested, Deepak's name was removed from the probe. However, the POCSO court refused to accept the police version. Deepak's bail petitions in the Rajasthan HC and SC were turned down. Finally, the Rajasthan HC issued a notice to the Dausa SP to appear before the court on January 23. The BJP is condemning the Gehlot government for shielding the Congress MLA's son.

Mann celebrates Lohri at native village

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann accompanied by his wife on Sunday visited his native village Satauj in Sangrur district to celebrate Lohri with his family, friends, and villagers. After lighting the bonfire he recalled his childhood days, especially Lohri celebrations in the village. He added that he wanted to ring in the festival in the company of his loved ones as all the villagers were very close to his heart and he loved sharing the joy of every festival with them. This festival has immense significance for all of us as it strengthens our ethos of communal harmony, peace and brotherhood. I pray for harmony and progress of the state," Mann said.

Punjab Cong chief's turban creates a buzz

45-year old Punjab Congress chief Amarinder Singh Raja Warring's new avatar has created a buzz after he was seen wearing a turban since last few days in public meetings, party functions and media interaction. When asked about his sudden wardrobe addition, he was quick to answer back. "I had long been thinking of tying the turban. I finally took the decision when I visited the Shaheedi Jor Mela at Fatehgarh Sahib recently. Should I not wear a turban? "he said. While Warring denies that his decision to tie a turban has any political tone but party insiders say it is a message for his adversaries on who is the party leader in the state.

Congress leaders meet Sidhu in Patiala Jail

A number of senior Punjab Congress leaders including former Congress state president Shamsher Singh Dullo, Lal Singh, Mohinder Singh Kaypee, Sukhpal Singh Khaira made a beeline outside the Patiala Central Jail in the last few days to meet cricketer-turned-politician Navjot Singh Sidhu, ahead of his much-anticipated release on January 26. The former state Congress president, Navjot Sidhu, is on the list of inmates with good conduct who can be released from jail under the Centre's remission policy. As former CM Rajinder Kaur Bhattal and Dullo who have passed their prime see Sidhu as a turnaround hope for them.

'Bomb threat on Moscow to Goa flight was fake'

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

THE Moscow-Goa chartered flight finally reached Goa after 15 hours of being grounded due to a bomb threat. The flight enroute from Moscow to Goa was diverted to Jamnagar on Monday night after Goa ATC received a bomb threat. The Moscow-Goa flight with 236 passengers and eight crew members spent the night at the Jamnagar airport lounge.

Jamnagar Superintendent of Police (SP) Premsukh Delu said, "Nothing suspicious was found on the Azur Air Moscow-Goa flight which was diverted to Jamnagar airport in Gujarat after a bomb threat on Monday night," SP said.

Delu said, "All the passengers were evacuated from the plane safely. The NSG teams from Ahmedabad and Delhi joined the local police in the search operation, including the passengers' luggage. The process was completed on Tuesday morning,".

"Passengers, plane, and luggage were thoroughly checked. We found nothing suspicious, and the plane was cleared to fly to its destination," he said.

Archer Deepti Kumari's ordeal touches hearts across India, aid pours in

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

EXPRESS IMPACT

ARCHER Deepti Kumari's story has found the right target — people's hearts. After this newspaper published how Deepti is running a tea stall in Ranchi (Broken Bow Breaks Archer's Dream, January 9) , readers have reached out, offering contributions to help her purchase new equipment.

Mukesh Jain, a businessman from Kerala, has sent ₹11, 000 to Deepti. Jain took the decision as soon as he read about Deepti's plight in the Kochi edition of this newspaper. "I was shocked after reading that a girl who sacrificed everything for the sport does not even have a bow now," Jain said. "She needs ₹4.5 lakh to purchase a new one. If everyone contributes a little, she would have enough money to purchase a new set," he said. "I have done my part and I appeal to others also to contribute as per their capacity," Jain said, condemning the government's apathy. Another reader from Chennai, Subhasri Shankar, has also come forward to help Deepti.

"After reading the report, I really felt bad. My daughter is a gymnast and I know the struggles a sportsperson goes through," said Shankar, a musician based in Chennai.

Elated with the response, Deepti said it is for the first time that someone has come forward to help her in this difficult time. "I have no words to thank you all, especially to the TNIE. Thanks to Mukesh Jain sahib for taking the initiative to help me," said the archer, who has won over 100 medals, and now sells tea to repay the loan taken by her mother from a self-help group for purchasing new professional equipment.

Tribal bodies call for J'khand bandh to 'free' Parasnath Hills from Jains

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

TRIBAL bodies stepped up their demand and have called for 'Jharkhand Bandh' on January 24 to free Parasnath Hills from the Jain community and declare the hills as 'Marang Buru' (hill deity or supreme source of power) for the Santhal community.

In order to chalk out future plan of action for reclaiming their right over Parasnath Hills, local tribals organised a 'Mahajutaan' (grand assemblage) on Tuesday at Madhuban near Parasnath Hills.

Amid tight security, thousands of tribals assembled in Madhuban against the declaration of Parasnath Hills as a religious place for Jain community and announced a fight to the finish for the protection of their sacred religious place Marang Buru Disom Majhi Than.

After performing a puja at Marang Buru Disom Majh Than, the agitators burnt effigies of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Chief Minister Hemant Soren and Giridih MLA Sudivya Kumar Sonu for handing over their sacred hills to the Jain community.

Hours after Union Government stopped all tourism and eco-tourism activities, banning liquor, drugs, and other intoxicants on Parasnath Hills to protect the sanctity of Sammed Shikarji, tribals living in the region raised their demand to free their hills from outsiders' interference.

Addressing the gathering, president of the tribal outfit Adivasi Sengel Abhiyan, Salkhan Murmu said that Parasnath is the most important place of worship for Santhal tribe. "As Ayodhya is for Hindus, Rome is for Christians, Parasnath Hills is for the people of Santhal community living in Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh and India. Our mantra starts with Marang Buru and the government is handing it over to others," said Murmu.

Tribal bodies claimed that entire Parasnath Hills is theirs and has been known as Marang Buru way before the Jain community arrived here. JMM MLA from Borio Lobin Hembrom has called for the bandh assured that he will raise the issue in the Assembly.

Sikandar Hembrom, Secretary of 'Marang Buru Sanwata Susar Baisi,' a local tribal outfit of Parasnath alleging a few people of their community trying to buy the tribals by taking money from the Jains, asked the administration to identify them and lodge FIR against them or they will have to resort to 'sendra' (a tribal festival observed on a particular date in May every year, wherein tribal men and women armed with traditional weapon raid the jungles and kill animals and birds).

Husband died of cancer 4 yrs ago, she lost both sons in Rajouri militant attack

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

THE life of 58-year old woman Saroj Bala, who had lost her husband to cancer four years ago, has been devastated by the January 1 militant attack in Dangri village of Rajouri in J&K as she lost both her sons in the militant firing. Three civilians were killed and seven others, including two women in the attack.

With no one left in the family to take care of her, the woman has asserted she does not need compensation but justice for her sons and an inquiry into the medical treatment of her younger son, who succumbed to injuries in a Jammu hospital on Sunday.

Saroj Bala's both sons Deepak Kumar (elder) and Prince Kumar (younger) were injured in a militant attack in Dangri village on January 1 evening. "There was complete darkness. I served food to my younger son and nephew. After they finished eating, I took the utensils to clean them in the kitchen. I heard fire cracker-like soundsand heard the screams of my elder son. I told my younger son and nephew to see what has happened. We all went out and saw gunmen firing. They fired at my younger son also," said Saroj. "I saw them kicking my both sons, who were lying in a pool of blood. When they entered another house, I dragged my sons inside the house and took them to Rajouri hospital," said the heartbroken Saroj.

Her elder son Deepak was declared brought dead in the hospital while doctors performed surgery on her younger son. Deepak had recently gotten a job in the Army's ordnance depot and was to join in a week. "The doctors told me they have operated on Prince and he will recover soon," she said.

After Prince's condition worsened, he was referred to Government Medical College Jammu, where he succumbed to injuries on Sunday. "There was a bullet inside my son's body and they failed to notice it. Why the government did not airlift him to Delhi hospital for specialized treatment," said Saroj, alleging his son died due to negligence of doctors.

Demanding justice for her sons, she said, "Can the government return my sons? Can compensation give me my sons back? What will I do of the money and jobs being offered by government? The sons cannot be sold for ₹10 lakhs or 20 lakhs or government job". "I don't want money. I want justice. I want revenge," she asserted and demanded an investigation of the attack.

Woman claims medical negligence, seeks justice

The attack happened four days after four militants were gunned down by J&K Police and security forces. With no one left in the family for her, the woman has asserted she does not need compensation but justice for her sons and an inquiry into the medical treatment of her younger son who died in the hospital.

AI to save jumbos from train accidents in Assam

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

IDS dashboard in central control at Maligaon Headquarters in Guwahati | EXPRESS

WHAT can save the elephants from train accidents? Artificial Intelligence (AI), says the Northeast Frontier Railway (NFR). Incidents of wild elephant deaths due to train hits are common in Assam but the NFR has found a technological solution by utilising AI-based software.

Since August 2022, when the NFR started monitoring the movement of the animal with the help of the Intrusion Detection System (IDS) in 11 elephant corridors, which cover a distance of 70 km, in the Lumding and Alipurduar divisions, there has not been a single such incident.

Buoyed by the success of the IDS, the NFR has now decided to make this technological intervention in the remaining 75 elephant corridors falling under its jurisdiction.

The NFR's Chief Public Relations Officer Sabyasachi De told this newspaper that the railway optical fiber cables run parallel to tracks. These are used for dedicated railway internet for various core operations of the railways. "When there is an elephant movement on or alongside a railway track, it creates vibration, causing variations in the optical signals being carried in these OFCs. The disturbance in the signals is the signature. Our AI-based software detects the changes in the optical signals to sense the presence of elephants," De said.

"This software can tell us exactly whether the movement is that of an elephant, other animals or even human. It can also specifically tell the distance where the movement has been detected. Any mammal which walks on land has a specific movement signature. The AI-based software has been trained to even detect the number of animals at a site," he said.

The alerts generated by the system are received by those manning the control room and the section station master. The loco pilots also get the alerts on a tablet-type device they use in the locomotive.

The movement can be detected for 35 km front and back along the tracks from where the IDS brain center has been installed. The OFC is able to detect vibrations up to 15-20 meters away.

"Normally, we restrict the speed of trains wherever there is an elephant corridor. The loco pilots are advised to move cautiously in the elephant corridors irrespective of the presence of elephants at that time. Now, they will know the exact movement of the elephants beforehand and control train speeds accordingly. This system has solved the root of jumbo deaths on tracks," De said, adding the detection mechanism receives thousands of alerts every day with pinpoint accuracy.

The 86 elephant corridors under NFR straddle over 226 km. This is the highest number of elephant corridors in any zonal railway. The NFR has plans to put in place the system at all corridors by next year.

"We will use this technology also to detect fault in tracks, wheel flats, illegal excavations near tracks and real time train approach information in Level Crossing gates," De said.

Nowhere in the world is this technology used to prevent train's collision with wild animals. around 120 elephants had died in collisions with trains between 1990 and 2022 in areas falling under the NFR.

No life left, says Ukraine as Russia steps up attack

Zelenskyy says this is what madness looks like amid more assaults

KYIV

RUSSIAN forces are escalating their onslaught against Ukrainian positions around the wrecked city of Bakhmut, Ukrainian officials said, bringing new levels of death and devastation in the grinding, monthslong battle for control of eastern Ukraine that is part of Moscow's wider war.

"Everything is completely destroyed. There is almost no life left," Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said late Monday of the scene around Bakhmut and the nearby Donetsk province city of Soledar. "The whole land near Soledar is covered with the corpses of the occupiers and scars from the strikes," Zelenskyy said. "This is what madness looks like."

Ukraine's deputy defence minister, Hanna Malyar, said Russia has thrown "a large number of storm groups" into the fight for the city.

"The enemy is advancing literally on the bodies of their own soldiers and is massively using artillery, rocket launchers and mortars, hitting their own troops," she said.

Pavlo Kyrylenko, the Donetsk region's governor, on Tuesday described the Russian attacks on Soledar and Bakhmut as relentless. "The Russian army is reducing Ukrainian cities to rubble using all kinds of weapons in their scorched-earth tactics," Kyrylenko said. "Russia is waging a war without rules, resulting in civilian deaths and suffering."

The Moscow-backed leader of the occupied areas of Donetsk said Tuesday that Russia's forces were "very close" to taking over Soledar. But the gains were coming "at a very high price," Denis Pushilin told Russian state TV.

Meanwhile, Germany's foreign minister vowed support for Ukraine in its bid to repel Russia's invasion, as she became the highest-level Western official since the conflict to visit the eastern city of Kharkiv on Tuesday.

"In all the parts of Ukraine, from Kharkiv to Kherson to Kyiv, people should know that they can rely on our solidarity and support," said Foreign Minister Annalena Baerbock during the unannounced visit. Agencies

Iranian ex-prez's daughter gets jail as crackdown on

TEHRAN

IRANIAN activist Faezeh Hashemi, daughter of former president Akbar Hashemi Rafsanjani, has been sentenced to five years over 'propaganda' and acts against national security, her lawyer said. Hashemi was arrested in Tehran on September 27 for encouraging residents to demonstrate amid nationwide protests sparked by Amini's death.

"My client…was sentenced to five years in prison by the preliminary court," her lawyer Neda Shams said, adding she plans to appeal the verdict.

The 60-year-old former lawmaker and women's rights activist was charged with "collusion against national security, propaganda against the Islamic republic and disturbing public order by participating in illegal gatherings," the lawyer said. Hashemi has faced similar charges before and in 2012, was arrested and sentenced to six months in prison for "propaganda against the Islamic republic."

Faezeh Hashemi, Iranian activist

Meanwhile, Iran has sentenced another man to death in connection with the protests, the judiciary said on Tuesday. Javad Rouhi was sentenced to death on charges of "corruption on Earth," Mizan Online reported. Rouhi was found guilty of "leading a group of rioters," "inciting people to create insecurity" and "apostasy by desecration of the Koran by burning it."

The UN on Tuesday said Iran is weaponising the death penalty to frighten the public and crush dissent, and its execution of protesters without due process amounts to state-sanctioned killing. "Criminal proceedings and the death penalty are being weaponised by the Iranian government to punish individuals participating in protests and to strike fear into the population so as to stamp out dissent," UN rights chief Volker Turk's office said. AFP

Govt likely to extend ECLGS by another year

Announcement will be made by Nirmala Sitharaman in Union Budget to be presented on February 1, say sources

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE government is likely to extend the emergency credit line guarantee scheme (ECLGS) for micro, small and medium enterprises (MSME) by another one year till March 2024, according to sources in the know.

The announcement will be made by finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman in the Union Budget to be presented on February 1, the government sources said. "The government may extend ECLGS by one more year, so that the unutilised amount can be used by MSMEs that need the credit. The minister may announce the extension while presenting Union Budget 2023-24," the source said.

RUN-UP TO BUDGET

Under ECLGS, ₹5 lakh crore worth of credit to the MSME sector will be covered by government guarantee. According to the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) financial stability report, under the ECLGS, an amount of ₹2.82 lakh crore has been disbursed till September 30, 2022, of which scheduled commercial banks have disbursed ₹2.46 lakh crore, with predominant share of disbursals under the phase 1 of ECLGS.

Disbursements under ECLGS

- As per RBI report, an amount of ₹2.82 lakh crore has been disbursed under ECLGS till September 30, 2022,
- Scheduled commercial banks have disbursed ₹2.46 lakh crore
- Major sectors availing ECLGS were services and traders impacted by the pandemic
- As per the report, private sector banks (PVB) utilised ECLGS more than public sector banks
- Amount disbursed to repeat borrowers of PVBs almost double that of PSBs

The major sectors availing of the ECLGS were services and traders, which were among the most impacted by the pandemic. As per the report, private sector banks (PVBs) utilised the ECLGS more than public sector banks, with the amount disbursed to repeat borrowers of PVBs almost double that of PSBs. The scheme was first time launched in March 2020 as part of the Aatma Nirbhar Bharat package to help MSMEs in combating the financial distress caused by Covid pandemic. The ministry has ever since expanded the scope of this scheme, and had extended it till March 2023. Under the scheme, the government guarantees 100% of the loans given to MSMEs in case loan becomes NPA. Meanwhile, the Federation of Indian Micro and Small and Medium Enterprises(FISME), in its pre-Budget recommendations to the ministry has urged for speedy implementation of Budget decision (2022-23), allowing use of surety bonds in place of bank guarantees in government procurements. The decision was made to reduce indirect cost for suppliers and work contractors.

JAPAN

CONSUMER INFLATION IN TOKYO EXCEEDS BOJ TARGET

Core consumer prices in Japan's capital, a leading indicator of nationwide trends, rose a faster-than-expected 4.0% in December from a year earlier, exceeding the central bank's 2% target for a seventh straight month in a sign of broadening inflationary pressure. The increase, which was the fastest pace in four decades, will likely underpin market expectations the Bank of Japan (BOJ) may phase out its massive stimulus by tweaking its yield curve control policy. "It's clear Japan's inflation is perking up as a trend. The economy's output gap will also likely to turn positive soon," said Mari Iwashita, chief market economist at Daiwa Securities. "All in all, we're seeing more data that will give the BOJ reason to eventually normalise monetary policy," she said. The rise in the Tokyo core consumer price index (CPI), which excludes fresh food but includes fuel, exceeded a median market forecast of 3.8% and a 3.6% gain seen in November, government data showed on Tuesday. The last time Tokyo inflation was faster was April 1982, when the core CPI was 4.2% higher than a year before.

THAILAND

APPROVES $100 BN BUDGET FOR 2024 FISCAL YEAR

Thailand's cabinet on Tuesday approved a budget of 3.35 trillion baht ($100 billion) for the fiscal year 2024. The new budget is 5.18% bigger than the previous year, government spokesperson Anucha Burapachaisri said. The 2024 budget is an increase of 165 billion baht from last year's budget, but this year's deficit is lower by 102 billion baht. The four agencies – the Budget Bureau, National Economic and Social Development Council (NESDC), Bank of Thailand and Finance Ministry – will propose the budget to the Cabinet for approval next Tuesday. NESDC secretary-general Danucha Pichayanan said that setting next year's government expenditure at 3.35 trillion baht was appropriate given economic recovery following the Covid-19 crisis. The 2024 budget is based on expected GDP growth of 3.3% to 4.3% next year from global economic recovery, he said. "Recovery of the global economy and trade volumes will benefit Thailand's exports, resulting in GDP expansion," he said.

PAKISTAN

FOREX RESERVES HIT 8-YEAR LOW

Pakistan's central bank's foreign reserves fell to an eight-year low despite the government's efforts to shore up its economy. The State Bank of Pakistan's (SBP) reserves hit $5.576 billion during the week ended December 2022. In January 2022, the reserves amounted to $16.6 billion, which means the reserves dipped $11 billion by the end of the year. According to reports, the SBP foreign exchange reserves saw an outflow of $245 million for external debt repayments. The massive decline in forex reserves implies that Pakistan import cover is now down to barely three weeks. The local currency has already been devalued against the US dollar and other major currencies. Besudes Pakistan's inflation is at decades-high alongside a political and energy crisis. Pakistan has received financial help from allies China and Saudi Arabia in the past, but as per analysts these two countries are holding off until Pakistan gets the IMF's nod.

Edtech unicorn upGrad CEO steps down

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

EDTECH company upGrad's CEO Arjun Mohan has quit the company. His decision comes at a time when edtech platforms are reeling under pressure to turn profitable. With slowing funding rounds and to conserve cash, many edtech start-ups have sacked employees in recent times.

In a LinkedIn post, Arjun Mohan, worked with upGrad for three years, confirmed his exit from the company. "While I look back on the years at upGrad, I feel happy about the incredible company we have built that helped so many working professionals upskill. The aspects of growth and other metrics were just outcomes of giving customers what they aspired for," he said. His last date of employment will be January 15. Mohan started his edtech journey in 2008 and he believes still there is a lot more to be done to solve the persistent problems of access, affordability and quality. "I'm in exploration phase of what I can do in education next," he said.

Last month, upGrad, which employs over 7,500 people, invested ₹30 crore to set up TuringMinds to develop tech products. In FY22, the start-up's loss widened to ₹626.6 crore from ₹211.1 crore in the previous year. As per Tracxn data, its revenue rose 2x in FY22 at ₹692.2 crore from ₹327.7 crore in the previous fiscal.

Lenders approve 2nd auction for RCap

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

VOTING on the expected lines, the lenders on Tuesday unanimously decided in favour of the proposal to hold the second round of e-auction for Reliance Capital.

With the approval of second round of auction, the earlier bids of Torrent and Hinduja are no longer valid.

"The outcome of the voting is on expected lines as it allow lenders to get a better offer for Reliance Capital. The decision of the Committee of Creditors (CoC) has also paved the way for entry of other two bidders, Piramal-Cosmea and Oaktree, to enter the fray," said a source. "Proposal to conduct a second Challenge Mechanism round approved with an overwhelming 100% vote by the lenders, led by LIC and EPFO, who have 35% voting rights," he added.

Apart from Torrent Group and Hinduja Group, now Piramal-Cosmea and Oaktree are also eligible to participate in the bidding for Anil Ambani's insolvent Reliance Capital.

The lenders have set ₹9,500 crore as base bid for the second of e-auction, including a minimum cash offer of Rs 8,000 crore. In the first round of the auction that ended on December 21, Torrent Investments gave the highest offer of ₹8,640 crore based on NPV. After the deadline for the auction passed, Hinduja Group revised its bid price to ₹9,000 crore on December 23, from its previous bid of ₹8,110 crore. Ahmedabad-based Torrent Group claimed that Hinduja's revised offer, after the e-auction, is illegal and non-compliant. Torrent accused Hinduja of revising its bid in violation of Challenge Mechanism and got a stay from the Mumbai bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT). NCLT has directed the administrator not to present Hinduja's revised offer before the CoC. The tribunal will give its order on Thursday.

Market erases Monday's gain, falls more than 1%

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market on Tuesday erased most of the gains made on Monday, ahead of US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell's speech due later in the day.

The BSE barometer index, Sensex, tumbled 631.83 points or 1.04% to 60,115.48. The Nifty 50 index lost 187.05 points or 1.03% to close below 18,000- level at 17,914.15. The two indices on Monday had gained nearly 1.4% each after a bearish first week of calendar year 2023.

Later in the day, Powell said the Fed is strongly committed to lowering inflation even as interest-rate increases to restrain economic growth could fuel political backlash. "Restoring price stability when inflation is high can require measures that are not popular in the short term as we raise interest rates to slow the economy," stated Powell. As per a senior equity market analyst, Powell's clear indication that more interest rates will take place in the near future is a negative for the global equity market, including India. Commenting on Tuesday's slump, Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services, said that Global bourses reversed their recent gains as Fed officials stated that policymakers would raise the rate beyond 5% and hold on for a while. "Sentiments in the domestic market were further dampened by the muted start to the IT earnings season, along with their cautious commentary on the demand environment," he added. Among individual stocks in the Nifty50 pack, Adani Group flagship Adani Enterprises plunged over 5%.

Rupee strengthens 61 paise against US dollar, biggest gain in 2 months

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE rupee strengthened 61 paise to close at 81.74 against the US dollar yesterday, making it the biggest single-day gain in nearly two months.

Weak demand for US dollar among banks boosted rupee, which has gained 94 paise in past two trading sessions. Experts believe the future prospects for rupee hinges on crude oil prices and trend in interest rates in the US. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local unit opened at 82.2 and touched an intra-day high of 81.72 and a low of 82.26 against the greenback. It finally ended at 81.74, registering a rise of 61 paise over its previous close. On Monday, rupee settled at 82.35 against the US dollar. The rupee is likely to trade weaker in the first half of this year as interest rates in the US are expected to remain elevated. However, the second half is expected to be better for rupee.

'Rupee move hinges on crude price, interest rate'

Weak demand for US dollar among banks boosted rupee, which has gained 94 paise in the past two trading sessions. Experts believe that the future prospects for rupee hinges on crude oil prices and trend in interest rates in the US

"The second half (this year) can be positive for rupee as the US interest rate hikes may slow down as gap between interest rate and Inflation will narrow. Rupee can be seen weak in first half and strong in second if crude oil remains under $85 per barrel and rates starts coming down," Jateen Trivedi, VP Research Analyst at LKP Securities told this newspaper.

"Forex reserves have increased in 2022 at $560 billion from $540 billion at start of 2022 but it is down $82 billion from $642 billion peak in August 2021. Hence the RBI will be careful while intervening aggressively," he said.

BharatPe gets payment aggregator licence

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

PAYMENT solutions provider Hitachi Payment Services and BharatPe Group on Tuesday announced that they have received in-principle authorisation from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to operate as a payment aggregator (PA).

BharatPe said the in-principle approval has been awarded to Resilient Payments Private Limited, a 100% owned subsidiary of Resilient Innovations Private Limited (BharatPe).

Nalin Negi, CFO and interim CEO, BharatPe, said that the company has already built a network of 1 crore merchants across 400 cities. "This in-principle approval will help catapult our expansion plans and enable us to reach out to millions of more unbanked and underserved merchants," he added.

BharatPe said that the final authorisation is subject to fulfilment of certain conditions, and that they will now commence work on fulfilling the said conditions within the prescribed timeline and launch the online PA business upon the receipt of the final authorisation.

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

THE mutual fund industry showed strong growth in December as inflows from systematic investment plans (SIPs) reached an all-time in last month, while inflows into equity mutual funds surged to ₹7,303 crore in December compared to ₹2,258 crore in November 2022.

Monthly SIP contribution reached ₹13,573 crore in December 2022 compared to ₹11,305 crore in December 2021, according to the data released by Association of Mutual Fund Industry (Amfi) on Tuesday.

The assets under management (AuM) of mutual fund industry rose 5.7% or ₹2.2 lakh crore to ₹39.88 lakh crore in 2022. Mutual fund folios reached an all-time high of 14.11 crore in December 2022 from 12.02 crore in December 2021.

"The importance of investing in equity markets for the longer term goals is not lost on investors and the same is reflected in the ever-increasing awareness and adoption of SIP as a goal-linked route to create wealth over the long term," said N S Venkatesh, chief executive, Amfi.

"This month nearly 24 lakh new SIPs were registered, which shows increasing investor belief in the instrument. SIPs are the simplest route to build a disciplined habit of regular investing."

Jet promoters defend Sanjiv Kapoor's designation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN the on-going tussle between Jalan Kalrock Consortium (JKC) and the creditors of Jet Airways, the former has written to the head of the Jet Airways management committee (MC) and the erstwhile Resolution Professional (RP) Ashish Chhawchharia, stating that Sanjiv Kapoor remains the CEO-designate till the airline's ownership is transferred by the lenders to the consortium.

"Sanjiv Kapoor, who received necessary security clearance from the Ministry of Civil Aviation, in August 2022, is the CEO-Designate for Jet Airways and thus requires no further approval from any statutory authority," JKC said in the letter.

The consortium, the successful bidder of the defunct airline Jet Airways, has also asked Chhawchharia to remain within the ambit of his powers.

The letter noted that JKC "seeks constructive support from all stakeholders including you" and read, "You (the RP) is advised to refrain from communicating on behalf of Jet Airways until authorised by all required members of the committee. Thus, as authorised representative of the committee, you are requested to act on matters which are authorised or otherwise approved by the MC jointly." The consortium told Chhawchharia if "there exists no resolution which authorises you to write to Kapoor, your letter under reference shall be considered null and void."

Housing sales hit nine-year high in 2022, fall marginally in second half

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DESPITE a rise in annual property price of up to 7% in last 12 months, housing sales hit nine-year high in calendar year (CY) 2022 at 3.12 lakh units, according to Knight Frank India.

The consultancy firm noted that 312,666 residential units were sold across the top eight markets of India in CY2022, registering a growth of 34% year on year (YoY).

Mumbai led the residential real estate sales in 2022 with 85,169 units, followed by the National Capital Region (NCR) (58,460) and Bengaluru (53,363).

Shishir Baijal, Chairman and managing director, Knight Frank India, said, "The residential sector was an exceptional story of growth in 2022, as despite numerous inflictions, the pace of growth remained largely intact."

He added, "The shift is so strong that despite some worsening in affordability on account of rising home loan interest rates, sales momentum has remained buoyant."

"We estimate pace of sales to remain unchanged in the new year," said Baijal.

Unacademy lays off 40 employees in Relevel

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

LEARNING platform Unacademy is firing 40 employees in its subsidiary Relevel, a platform for jobs and skill development. The company is sacking employees as it is shifting focus from the education business to test product app NextLevel.

In an internal note to employees, Gaurav Munjal, co-founder and CEO, Unacademy, said that existing learner cohorts would not be impacted and that Relevel's team will continue to provide high quality learning experience.

"Relevel's Core team will focus on building NextLevel. Almost 80% of Relevel's remaining team will be absorbed by other businesses of Unacademy Group and we will have to let go of around 20% (around 40 people) of the team because of lack of availability of roles for them," he said.

They will be extended the same benefits that were given to exiting employees in November, Munjal said, adding that severance pay equivalent to notice period and an additional two months, accelerated vesting, medical insurance and placement support will also be provided.

He said the company's outplacement teams have helped over 60% of the exited employees to get placed in the last two months. "Our culture is to pursue novel and creative ideas but we are also disciplined about holding ourselves to a high bar to continue the projects we start," he added.

India's Virat Kohli drives the ball through covers during the first ODI against Sri Lanka in Guwahati on Tuesday | SPORTZPICS

Kohli in 'happy space', fires India past Lanka

GOMESH S @ Chennai

Brief scores: India 373 in 50 ovs (Kohli 113, Rohit 83, Gill 70; Rajitha 3/88) bt Sri Lanka 306/8 in 50 ovs (Shanaka 108 n.o, Nissanka 72; Malik 3/57, Siraj 2/30).

FOR a moment, Virat Kohli had rolled back time. He had just driven Kasun Rajitha down the ground for a single to get past the three-figure mark in the first ODI against Sri Lanka in Guwahati. The celebrations that followed were not the sigh of relief he had in Dubai after the 71st international century in September. Nor was it a thank-god-it's-done one after his hundred against Bangladesh in Chattogram last month.

Instead, it was the Kohli of the past. The Kohli of 2010s who piled on centuries for fun and yet celebrated every one of them like it was his first ever. The Kohli who batted like he was on the top of the world, looking down on mere mortals who were trying to catch up with the pace at which he moved forward. He pointed towards the air as he ran the single, leapt up and above the stump, punching the air and shouting in delight — as he has done innumerable times in the past decade — rolling back the clock into the angry young athlete who wanted to prove why he is the World's No 1 batter every time he walked out to bat.

But that was just momentary. As soon as he landed on his feet from the leap, he was the wise 34-year-old athlete who was at peace with where he is in his career. The arms went aloft, the helmet removed and the smile came along. He thanked the fans, heavens, gave his batting partner a hug and went back to what he was doing good all day long.

From the moment he came out to bat, Kohli was at his authoritative best. The trademark flick of the wrists, the regal cover drive with a full-on front foot stride, the punch in front of the eye with no follow-through to send the ball down the ground — he showed it all and more. Kohli consistently stepped out to hit the spinners out of the attack, something he had struggled with in the recent past.

Granted the bowling was ordinary from the visitors, the pitch was batting-friendly, the edges flew into vacant regions and he was given multiple lives, but none of it mattered. Having not had much luck for 1020 days, Kohli knew what to do when the rub of the green was with him.

He made the most of it, cruising to an 80-ball century. Through the innings he maintained a strike rate over 100 and finished with 113 runs from 87 balls, helping the hosts get to 373/7.

More than the century, Kohli was happy about the tempo batted and made it a point to appreciate all the luck had for he knows how hard it could be when things are not going one's way.

"The only thing I learnt was desperation doesn't get you anywhere. You have to play for the right reasons and almost play every game like your last and just be happy about it. The game is going to move on and I'm happy with my space," Kohli said after the match.

In reply, Dasun Shanaka scored a century, but Sri Lanka fell short by 67 runs as they finished with 306/8. India's top-five came good, showing what they could achieve if they execute the intent they are capable of displaying. And they need it this year more than ever, for every ODI they play will be about the home World Cup. But Tuesday was not about that. It was about an world-class athlete — happy with where he is — enjoying piling on runs out there in the middle like someone who's born to do.

WITH THE MEN'S FIELD HOCKEY WORLD CUP BEGINNING IN ROURKELA AND BHUBANESWAR ON JANUARY 13, A BRIEF LOOK AT THE TEAMS THAT WILL BE IN ACTION. HERE'S A LOOK AT THREE OF THE FOUR TEAMS IN POOL D, ENGLAND, WALES AND SPAIN

TEAM TRACKER

JAN 13-29, 2023 | 16 NATIONS, ONE DREAM

WALES

Debut

How they qualified

Took the scenic route. After failing to qualify through the EuroNations, they went into the European Qualifier needing to reach the final. They did that thanks to a shootout win over Ireland in the semifinals.

As is the case in world hockey, some teams just aren't blessed with the financial advantages. Wales have had to open a crowdfunding campaign for flight tickets so that the team need not self fund. They do have a solid core of players who have had experience of big-ticket hockey before as some of the players do turn out for GB at the Olympics. Finished sixth at the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham.

Stars to watch out for

Some of the known faces include Rupert Shipperley, Jacob Draper and Lewis Prosser. In a team where the majority have fewer than 50 caps (eight of 20), the onus is on Prosser and the experienced core to inspire kids back home. That's the stated aim of the federation.

We are very excited. Playing in the World Cup isn't an opportunity we have had before. There are a few nerves, but we have had a good build-up so we are ready to get going."

— Rupert Shipperley, Wales player

SPAIN

Matches played 94 | Won 44

Best performance 2nd

Picked up a good win over India in a Pro League encounter in October but generally have been inconsistent. For all their heritage and tradition of the sport, it's been a while since they have had a big tournament in a global event.

Bad time of it

Since reaching the final of the Olympics in 2008, they have been trying and failing to get back to the top table. Over the last group games at the Olympics and the World Cup, they have picked up one win, an indication that they have good enough in key moments. They have now given celebrated coach Max Caldas enough time to bend the team according to his particular needs. Will the patience pay off?

Stars to watch out for

Enrique Gonzalez remains an enigma, perhaps one of the great dribblers of the modern age. In a team packed with young players, Gonzalez, who won the best player award at the junior World Cup in 2016, will look to play his greatest hits for another time.

We want to make it to the quarterfinals first. Then we are just one win away from the semifinals and medal spots and the ultimate goal is to win a medal.

— Alvaro Iglesias, Spain player

ENGLAND

Matches played 94

Won 44

Best performance 2nd

They remain a nearly team of the sport, whether as England or as part of Great Britain (at the Olympics). They have never been short of players capable of individual brilliance but have always been let down during crunch moments. It's partly why they have finished fourth in each of their last three World Cups.

Frustrating side but capable of big wins

They are a bit like India in that they can remain very frustrating to watch. The talent has never been in question but they are never far ever away from an error or two. However, there is some belief among the latest group of players, as evidenced by their unbeaten start to the latest edition of the Pro League. Interestingly, there is a nice little rivalry developing between England/GB and India with lots of goals and close matches.

Stars to watch out for

Phil Roper remains one of England's biggest goal-scoring threats, with the likes of Sam Ward chipping in now and then. Throw in the likes of David Condon and and Harry Martin and it's the crux of the squad that's stayed together for a long time.

The World Cup is the pinnacle of a player's international career for England, and it's a real honour and privilege to be chosen to represent the country at this tournament. I have had the opportunity to see the growth of the squad this year and I know those selected will be determined to put in a level of performance that improves on the last World Cup in 2018.

'INDIA CAN REACH SEMIFINALS'

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

FIH WORLD CUP SPECIAL

REGARDED as one of the best forwards in the history of the game, Pakistan's former men's hockey team captain Shahbaz Ahmed is not surprised with the team he once led to glory failing to qualify for the 2023 World Cup beginning in Odisha on January 13. With four World Cup trophies to their name, Pakistan are the most successful team in the history of the tournament. The inaugural champions (1971) had last won the coveted trophy way back in 1994 under Shahbaz's captaincy.

"In Pakistan, hockey has lost popularity. Here youths don't talk about the sport. The whole nation is engulfed in cricket mania so much so that even the prime minister's news doesn't find prominence if cricket and related news are there," Shahbaz, the only one in the sport to have won two back-to-back player of the World Cup awards (1990 and 1994), told this daily from Karachi, Pakistan.

Known as the Maradona of Hockey in his playing days, Shahbaz had won gold in the Asia Cup, Asian Games and Champions Trophy apart from the World Cup. He was also part of the team that won bronze in the 1992 Barcelona Olympics. Despite him being the legend of the game, the 54-year-old feels the game didn't give him the recognition he deserved and it would have been different had he been the top cricketer. "I played hockey at the elite level for 18 years and was among the world's best. Had I been a cricketer, I would have been a billionaire. But here I am, I cannot build my dream home neither can I think of owning a luxurious car."

Coming down heavily on the current crop of Pakistani players, Shahbaz strongly believes that they are not mentally and physically fit to play the game. "They are low on confidence and their body language suggests so. Most of these players play a few games for Pakistan and then move to some sub-standard leagues abroad. Their thinking is different. You cannot achieve something great if you are trying to attain smaller goals."

He also has ways to improve the situation but said the change will take considerable time. "Hockey needs to be institutionalised. We need to start three or four excellence academies in different cities. We have to form different age group teams. We have 8-10 private academies here but they are only for self-projection," he suggested.

On the contrary, Shahbaz is quite happy with India's progress in recent times. "India are doing a good job. They are promoting hockey. They are looking after their players especially financially. They have been in the top six of the table in the past couple of years. They have a good structure in the country to groom and polish players."

Four-time World Cup winners Pakistan bagged the 1994 edition, their last title, with Shahbaz Ahmed as captain

Despite the praise, India too have hardly performed at the biggest stage with the bronze medal win at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics an exception. He blamed the faulty governing structure in both the countries responsible for the downfall of the sport. "Take for example Holland, where hockey is a family game. Here in India and Pakistan, the state units are bogus. We need to promote hockey in schools and colleges. We need to take care of players from the beginning. We should help them financially. Give them a stipend. They should be looked after academically as well. A single pattern should be introduced across the country. Inter-district leagues should be held. This all will ensure a uniformity in training and grooming methods."

Elaborating it further, Shahbaz said, "We should start awarding central contracts. Grade players and fix annual contract fees for each grade. We need to make the game more attractive so that youngsters take up the sport. India still have a few pockets like Punjab, Haryana where hockey is a prominent sport but here in Pakistan no region can be identified where hockey is alive."

He also believes India and Pakistan should play each other frequently to popularise the game. "We know both the teams play passionately whenever they play against each other. These matches will produce heroes, which we have been missing for quite some time now and these heroes in turn will attract youngsters to hockey."

Dutch-Belgium final?

Shahbaz predicts India to reach the semifinals. "As per my prediction, India can make it to the semifinals. Germany can be another semifinalist but the title clash will be between the Netherlands and Belgium." Australia are always a tough side given their show in the blue-riband events but Shahbaz differs. "Australia are always in the top four but they play too aggressive and sometimes that goes against them. For a big event like the World Cup, you need a strong defensive set-up and the Netherlands and Belgium have edge in that department making them favourites for the title," he signed off.

Hoping to replicate CSK's success with JSK: Morkel

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AS the inaugural SA20 league gets underway on Tuesday, former South Africa all-rounder and Joburg Super Kings (JSK) assistant coach Albie Morkel said that the tournament will build into one of the biggest in the world with all six teams in the league being owned by the Indian Premier League franchisees.

Morkel said that being associated with the established franchises gives the players and coaches assurance of longevity. "We have tried to launch a league in South Africa for the last few years but it has not been successful. The associations with teams like these guarantees longevity in terms of the tournament. It gives us players and coaches freedom of mindset that you have a couple of years to build something," said Morkel in a media interaction on Tuesday. With JSK taking on Durban Super Giants in their opening game on Wednesday, Morkel said that the Faf du Plessis-led side has the experience and knowledge to thrive.

"Chennai Super Kings has a strong culture, it is a team that has been very successful and we are hoping to replicate that in South Africa with Joburg Super Kings," said the former CSK all-rounder.

Morkel, who has played in various T20 leagues himself before getting into coaching, said that the sport is fast-moving towards the franchise-based tournaments, with several such leagues popping up across the cricket calendar.

Baby hits ton to lift Kerala against Services

AGENCIES @ Thiruvananthapuram

VETERAN domestic cricketer Sachin Baby smashed his ninth first-class century (133 batting) as hosts Kerala reached a modest 254 for six on the opening day of their Elite Group C Ranji Trophy match against Services here on Tuesday. Sachin came in at a crucial phase of Kerala's innings with the hosts reeling at 4/19 in just the ninth over.

The 34-year-old Sachin, who is nearing the 4,000-run landmark in first-class cricket, played cautiously and took his time to settle down before forging fruitful partnerships with Salman Nizar (42) and Akshay Chandran (32).

At stumps, Sachin was holding fort with skipper Sijomon Joseph, who was unbeaten on 29. With the two batters firmly set, crossing the 300-plus score in the first session of play on day two will give Kerala the psychological edge. Earlier, Services quicks Poonam Poonia (2/31) and Diwesh Pathania (2/31) put Kerala in a spot of bother with the two reducing the hosts to 4/19.

Opener Jalaj Saxena was the first to depart for eight runs trapped in front of the wicket, while Ponnan Rahul, after facing 13 deliveries, was dismissed for a duck.

Rohan Prem and Vathsal Govind too went cheaply with the two bowlers taking a wicket each.

But from there on Sachin Baby ensured the hosts' recovery, hardly playing any audacious shots and preferring to take the ground route even when he got the opportunity to go for the maximum.

Javelin thrower Shivpal's ban reduced to 1 year

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

JAVELIN thrower Shivpal Singh, who tested positive for steroids Methandienone in 2021 and was banned for four years by National Anti Doping Agency's disciplinary panel, is free to compete this season. The latest update on the NADA website says that the Anti-Doping Appeal Panel has reduced the ban to one year with effect from 21-10-21. This means Shivpal can be part of national camp and can compete in national and international events as well. The appeals panel has accepted his explanation that the supplement he had taken was contaminated. The 'appellant' (Shivpal Singh) was represented by advocates Vidushpat Singhania and Parth Goswami, both experts in cases related to sports.

According to the ADAP document, Shivpal argued that "the Anti-Doping Rule Violation (ADRV) was not intentional rather it occurred due to consumption of fake/contaminated supplement, namely, Prime Testo Booster, which was duly disclosed by him in the doping control form at the time of testing."

Harry Potter Trivia

Author JK Rowling finishes the 7th and last Harry Potter novel on this day in room 552 of the Balmoral Hotel, Edinburgh

JK ROWLING SUITE

The Balmoral hotel, the Scottish hotel where Rowling stayed, renamed Rowling's room as the J.K. Rowling suite in her honour. The decision was made to preserve the signed bust

A LUXURIOUS STAY

A night manager for the Balmoral confirmed that a night in the J.K. Rowling suite costs £1,415, or about $2,057. This figure included value-added tax

A SECRET MISSION

Only the staff involved in the room knew about Rowling living there, and they kept the secret professionally. No one knew that she was there until she left

With the 50th anniversary tour of the fusion band Shakti starting on January 20 with a show in the city, one of its founding members John McLaughlin speaks about the group's legacy and its music

TUNIR BISWAS

CELEBRATING A LEGACY

BACK in 1974, four musicians – guitarist John McLaughlin, violinist L Shankar and percussionists Zakir Hussain (tabla) and T H Vinayakram (ghatam) – formed a music group focussing on fusion music and took their steps to further world music. The group called themselves Shakti, and their music combined Indian music (a mix of Hindustani and Carnatic music) with elements of jazz. After extensively touring in the '70s, the group members went their separate ways and would meet sporadically to perform and enthral their fans. A couple of decades later, in the late '90s, the group increased their ensemble by taking in other members, including popular vocalist Shankar Mahadevan and percussionist V Selvaganesh (son of Vinayakram) and donned the name 'Remember Shakti'. The group is known to bridge many gaps. Not only have they bridged the musical gaps between Eastern and Western music, but they also bridged the two halves of India as Hussain is from North India and the other Indian members are from the Southern half.

Now, Shakti is in their 50th year and is soon to go on a golden jubilee tour, covering India and the world. They begin their highly-anticipated tour with a concert in Bengaluru on January 20 at Jayamahal Palace Hotel Grounds. McLaughlin, Hussain, Selvaganesh, Mahadevan and Ganesh Rajagopalan will be representing Shakti on the tour.

One of the original members of the group, McLaughlin is stoked for the tour to begin. "I love the music of my bandmates, how they write or play, so, I am wide open to their compositions, their suggestions, basically, anything they wish to suggest about my music or music in general," he says, adding that one of the highlights of touring in India has been its food.

Shakti, in their five decades, has gone through many member changes with certain members getting inducted into the group many decades later. But McLaughlin feels this hasn't hampered their creative vision. "First of all, the fact that Zakir Hussain – who is, without doubt, the greatest living tabla player alive – and I are still together, embodies the essential, joyful and virtuoso nature of Shakti. This, coupled with the fact that the musicians who compose the rest of the group grew up listening to Shakti, loved the group from the outset, and since they are all masterly musicians, they were drawn to the group as the group needed them," shares the Englishman. Mahadevan is one such member who had grown up with Shakti's music.

McLaughlin believes one of the key aspects that makes performing live special for the group is their knack for improvisation. "It is crucial. Improvisation is this aspect that expresses spontaneous joy, the true nature of Shakti. It is through improvisation that we can experience blissful freedom, both on an individual and collective level. This can only be achieved by musicians who have such a high degree of sensitivity, and share mutual love and admiration. It is their mastery, sensitivity and affection that allows me this experience. That said, the degree of complexity and sophistication of the compositions is another aspect of the uniqueness of Shakti," he concludes.

> The fact that Zakir Hussain – who is the greatest living tabla player alive – and I are still together, embodies the essential, joyful and virtuoso nature of Shakti. The relatively newer members also grew up listening to our music

FIT BIT

VIRASANA VARIATION HANDS RAISED

(HERO POSE VARIATION HANDS RAISED)

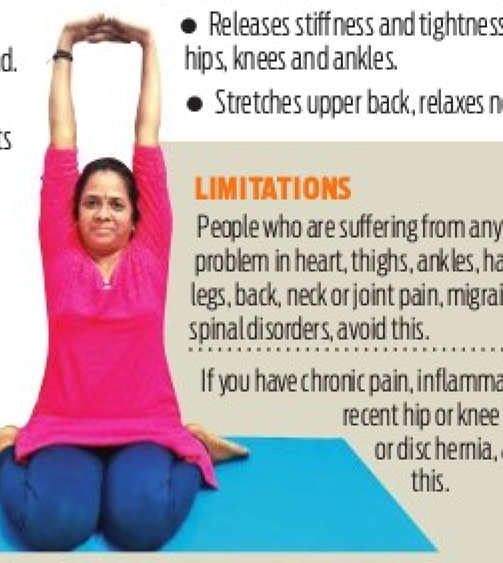
In this pose, sit bones touch the floor and hips are in internal rotation. Spiritually, it activates the Muladhara chakra, at the base of the spine. It is beneficial for those who suffer from high BP, digestive issues, asthma and menopausal symptoms.

STEPS

- Kneel down on the floor with your knees together.
- Then, spread your feet a few inches apart, with soles facing the ceiling.
- Adjust your ankles so that they stretch evenly from the arch to the toes and from the arch to the heels.
- Now, feel the energy flow smoothly in both directions.
- Inhale and raise your hands, clasped, above your head.
- Bend forward and twist the plump part of the calves outside.
- Sit on the ground between the feet and breathe out.
- Relax the upper body and shoulders, your spine should be straight and tall.
- The crown of your head should align with the ceiling. Look ahead.
- During the process assume that you are a hero or warrior, who sits tall and proud.
- Hold this pose for 30 seconds to a minute.
- During the process breathe normally.
- After that bring down your hands, relieve your feet, ankles and knees and shake your legs.

BENEFITS

- Stretches the hands, hips, thighs, knees, ankles and feet.
- Improves blood circulation and relieves tired legs.
- Strengthens foot arches, relieving flat feet.
- Improves digestion and relieves gas.
- It helps to improve posture, stability.
- Reduces swelling of the legs during pregnancy (through the second trimester).
- Lengthens the muscles of the spine, abdomen, shoulder, and chest.
- Provides a stretch to the shoulder blades, triceps, and upper back muscles.
- Releases tension in the muscles.
- Leads to better use of one's lungs.
- Reduces stress and help sleep better.
- Helpful for people suffering from insomnia.
- Releases stiffness and tightness from hips, knees and ankles.
- Stretches upper back, relaxes neck.



LIMITATIONS

People who are suffering from any problem in heart, thighs, ankles, hands, legs, back, neck or joint pain, migraine or spinal disorders, avoid this.

If you have chronic pain, inflammation, a recent hip or knee injury or disc hernia, avoid this.

Maharaj Devraj Singh

UNVEILING ROYAL TALES

Written by the only grandson of Rajmata Gayatri Devi — Maharaj Devraj Singh, Dulha Rai's Conquest of Dausa: The Early History of Kachwahas is an informative and interesting read on the life and times of the legendary 'bridegroom prince', Dulha Rai. CE speaks to Maharaj Devraj Singh about his inspiration, research and more

RESHMI CHAKRAVORTY

THE inception of the kingdom of Dhundhar (later the princely state of Jaipur) is ascribed to Dulha Rai, who is remembered as the progenitor of the Kachwaha dynasty of Rajputana. His career and rise to power is deeply linked with the district of Dausa and its principal seat of power, the enigmatic Dausa Fort. Details of his life and achievements (late tenth-eleventh century), however, remain a murky subject, while his family background and its history are also topics which are largely unexplored till date. This is due to the lack of first-hand information and understanding of the early medieval period in which the events of his life transpired. By piecing together various clues and analysing historical records, Maharaj Devraj Singh, the grandson of Jaipur's last ruling maharaja, Sawai Man Singh II, and his wife, Maharani Gayatri Devi — attempts to narrate the hitherto unknown history of his ancestors in the centuries prior to their move into Rajasthan, during which they were known as the Kachaphaghatas of Gwalior and Narwar in his debut novel Dulha Rai's Conquest of Dausa: The Early History of Kachwahas, published by Rupa Publications.

Born in Bangkok, Maharaj Devraj Singh graduated from Oxford Brookes University with a degree in business administration and hospitality management in 2003. In 2006, he completed his master's degree in international development from Chulalongkorn University. He then worked for the late King of Thailand's Chaipattana Foundation, involved in various rural development initiatives. He came to live full-time in Jaipur, caring for his ailing grandmother towards the closing months of 2008, and after her passing in July 2009, has remained in his fatherland. Excerpts.

What was the inspiration behind penning this book?

Having studied IGCSE and IB History, as it was a subject I always enjoyed, I would have liked to have read history, archeology or conservation at university. However, life took a different turn, but history was always a topic which I enjoyed in my past time. My non-history enthusiast friends would often fall into a state of languid stupor as soon as I touched on the subject, though thankfully the history buffs on the other spectrum would find our discourses engaging.

Since your work is heavily inspired by ancient texts and verses, there must be extensive amount of research involved. Tell us.

In studying the history of Jaipur, I was rather dissatisfied that the early period and especially the part concerning the founding story of Dhundhar Raj seemed inadequately explained. I knew that the history of this family must certainly go back further than Dhula Rai, but perhaps for some reasons the true history of this family was not brought forward, beyond A History of Jaipur which my grandfather had commissioned in the early 1940s. About 70 years after A History of Jaipur was published, I visited the castles Dausa and Ramgarth, which respectably served as the first and second capital of Dhundhar (as Jaipur state was known), I became more intrigued with the early history of the clan. I felt that the founding of Dhundhar deserved a more thorough investigation and thus, started doing my own research through material over the years. In the mid-2010s, I also began working on the manuscript.

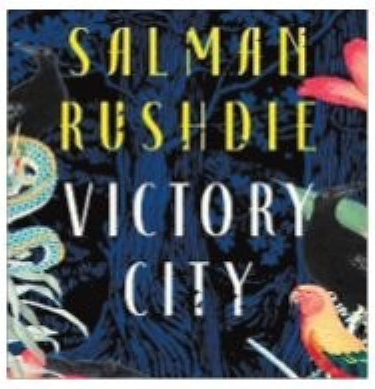
What can a reader expect from the latest release?

Readers would not only get to learn about the founding of Dhundhar, but also about the culture of the early medieval era which is a lesser known period (for non-historians) that is sandwiched in between enigmatic but popular ancient India and late medieval India which is amply documented. I also take a critical look at James Tod's version of events which he penned over a hundred years ago, which are quite authentic. The stories he heard and penned from the earlier periods, however, are based on oral accounts of various people he encountered in Rajasthan, each of whom had their own agendas and version of what transpired. Another insight which readers may gain is the history of imperial Kanyakubja, which for over 500 years was the principal seat of power in north India, long before the rise of Indraprastha (as Delhi was known). This history of the Gupta empire, particularly with regard to their influence in eastern Rajasthan and the forgotten domain of Gopaksetra is also included. It is through the study of how the Gupta period ended and its effects on the political scenario and climate of north India, that one would be able to appreciate the history of the Kachaphaghatas, as Dhula Rai's family was known at the time. Lastly, I wrote about the sites and places of antiquarian interests which I visited during my historic survey of Dausa, which would also give readers a better understanding of eastern Rajasthan from the early periods up until our own age. It is my hope that readers would gain some insight of this lesser-known epoch from this book and for history enthusiasts (may I dare say) some enjoyment in doing so.

Apart from writing, what other interests do you have?

History is far from being my only interest, I am therefore starting to consider what the next project should be about. Oddly enough, my family and friends have suggested I venture into historical novels, seems more of a challenge than non-fiction writing of which I rather enjoy reading. Having settled most of my court cases in India at the beginning of 2022, I now hope to explore other parts of India, which is an unending learning process, and would also inspire me for my next project.

NUGGETS



Salman Rushdie's new novel to release in Feb

Victory City is an epic tale of a woman who breathes a fantastical empire into existence, only to be consumed by it over the centuries - from Booker Prize-winning, internationally bestselling author Salman Rushdie, who recently survived a brutal assassination attempt. In the wake of an insignificant battle between two long-forgotten kingdoms in fourteenth-century southern India, a nine-year-old girl has a divine encounter that will change the course of history. After witnessing the death of her mother, the grief-stricken Pampa Kampana becomes a vessel for goddess Parvati, who begins to speak out of the girl's mouth. Granting her powers beyond Pampa Kampana's comprehension, the goddess tells her that she will be instrumental in the rise of a great city. —IANS

My music is the best investment in Orchestra Mysuru

...says Raghu Dixit, who chats with CE about his upcoming musical drama

A still from the film

Raghu Dixit

CE FEATURES

ORCHESTRA Mysuru is a project close to composer Raghu Dixit, who has not only composed the music but has also backed the project. "I am not the typical producer for this film. The budget was low for a musician at that time. But, I still wanted to be part of the project because the subject was compelling. So, Ashwin Vijaykumar, the other producer, gave me an offer that I score music for the film, and get a stake in it. My music is the investment in Orchestra Mysuru, and that's how I got the 'producer's label."

Known for his recent works in Ninna Sanihake, and the Malayalam film, Koode, Raghu shares that Orchestra Mysuru will be one of his best works. "The film is for Mysuru, by Mysuru, and of Mysuru. The Orchestra culture is very much alive in my hometown of Mysuru. It is a culture that I grew up with, and I strongly believe that it subconsciously made me want to become a musician. The entire team including Sunil Mysuru, the actor Poornachandra, and every element or people part of the Orchestra are from here. We had 15,000 Mysoreans participating in the film. All this is what makes it a very special film for me. I'm proud and grateful for the opportunity to be part of such a musical drama. A composer's dream is to create music for a film that has music at its core, and I'm glad Orchestra Mysuru has come quite early in my career."

Raghu Dixit considers Orchestra Mysuru to be an out-and-out musician's film. "The film has music from the 80-90s era. We have hardly used modern music in the film," says the music director, who has composed 8 original songs, and eight recreations of old classics. The lyrics have been penned by actor Dhananjay.

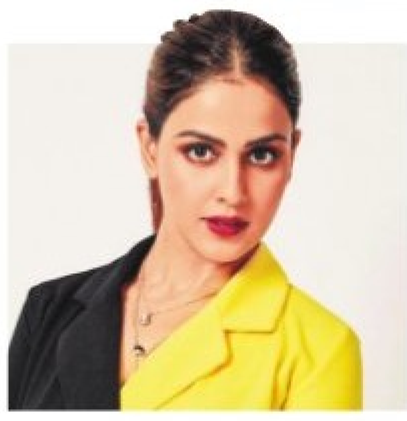
"The process of making the tunes for Orchestra Mysuru is the same. It is the sound that makes the difference. This process had me visiting old music shops and purchasing old keyboards. I got it repaired to create the sound of that time. Later we realised that software was available, which we purchased. We recreated the sounds of songs composed by Rajan Nagendra, Illayaraja, and Hamsalekha, among others," says Raghu.

Growing up, was Raghu Dixit part of any Orchestra band? "Not really. Music entered my life very late, only when I was in my 20s. But as a child, I grew up in a traditional area in Mysuru, which was strategically placed between two Orchestra bands, and this is where I fell in love with music, its creation, and the process. Definitely Orchestra has played a huge role in whom I'm today as an artist."

Talking about his work in Orchestra Mysuru, Raghu Dixit says, "I had a far bigger responsibility to sonically create a particular atmosphere in theatres, and take people back to an era that the Gen Z would have not even heard about. I also wanted to create a world, which is equally enchanting for kids, who have never seen or experienced the music of that time. We wanted all kinds of the audience to get engrossed in the film."

Apart from music, Raghu Dixit also says that the core of the story is universal and eternal. "It is an inspiring story of an underdog winning against all odds. It is a subject, which has been universal for hundreds of years, and will continue to motivate future generations as well."

Backed by KRG Studios and Dhananjay's Daali Pictures, Orchestra Mysuru stars Poornachandra, Rajalakshmi, Mahesh Kumar, Ravi Hunsur, Sachu, Rajesh Basvanna, Lingarju, and Mahadeva Prasad.



Break gave me a new perspective: Genelia

CE FEATURES

GENELIA Deshmukh was recently seen in Riteish Deshmukh's directorial debut, Ved. The Marathi film, which also stars Riteish and Jiya Shankar, is an official remake of the Telugu film Majili. The film is currently doing very well at the box office. In a recent interview, Genelia opened up about returning to acting after a long break.

Genelia shares that she had her doubts about returning to the big screens. She said, "I wondered, 'Will people like me? Will the audience even want to see me again? Have they moved on?' But this break gave me a new perspective. It made me understand the roles I want to do. I cannot do an Aditi (her character in Jaane Tu Ya Jaane Na) today, but I can do a Shravani (her character in Ved). That way, I can also connect with the girl who grew up from Aditi to Shravani."

Genelia, who made her Hindi debut with Tujhe Meri Kasam (2003), had a breakthrough role with Jaane Tu Ya Jaane Na (2008). But, after her wedding to Ritiesh Deshmukh in 2012, the actor slowed down on her acting career. Apart from Ved, she recently co-starred with Riteish in the comedy film Mister Mummy directed by Shaad Ali. She has now signed up for an untitled bilingual Telugu-Kannada film directed by Radha Krishna.

'It feels great to be in the consideration for the biggest award on the planet'

Anup Bhandari shares his excitement about Vikrant Rona making it to the Oscars contention list

Anup Bhandari

CE FEATURES

ANUP Bhandari's Vikrant Rona, which starred Sudeep in the lead, is among the South Indian films that made it to Oscar contention list announced recently. Expressing his excitement about his second film after Rangitaranga to make this cut, Anup says, "Two out of three of my directorials have got me global recognition. Getting nominated itself is a big deal. Our films have been picked from the list of 1000 films coming from different languages and countries. They filter around 300 films. Though I'm not aware of what criteria every film goes through to be on that list, I feel great because it is the biggest award on the planet. Our film on their website, and listed among the films like Avatar, feels great."

Vikrant Rona, a suspense thriller, Vikrant Rona, a suspense thriller backed by Manjunath Gowda's Shalini Arrts also starred Nirup Bhandari and Neetha Ashok in the lead cast. With music by Ajaneesh Loknath, the cinematography of Vikrant Rona was by William David.

OSCAR CONTENTION IS A FEATHER IN KANTARA'S CROWN

The Kannada blockbuster has made it to the Reminder List of Productions eligible for the 95th Academy Awards. Director Rishab Shetty on the global recognition...

A SHARADHAA

KANTARA has been riding a wave of success since its release in September. The film, which became a pan-India phenomenon, recently completed 100 days in theatres, and has now reached new heights.

Backed by producer Vijay Kiragandur, and directed by Rishab Shetty, who also played the lead, Kantara made it to the Reminder List of Productions eligible for the 95th Academy Awards. Kantara also made a mark in the list of performers eligible for consideration in the acting categories by receiving nods for Rishab, Kishore, Achyut Kumar, Manasi Sudhir, and Sapthami Gowda.

Kantara is one of the Indian movies on this list, which has 301 movies. The final nominations for the 2023 Oscars will be announced on January 24.

The statement shared by Hombale Films, Rishab, and the team read, "We are overjoyed to share that 'Kantara' has received 2 Oscar qualifications! A heartfelt thank you to all who have supported us. We look forward to sharing this journey ahead with all of your support. Can't wait to see it shine at the Oscars."

Speaking to CE, Rishab reiterates the sentiment he first shared in the press meet of his debut directorial. "Expectation and excitement have never been there. We are happy. It is the entire team's effort. It is the people, who took Kantara to another level, and they have already given us awards. They gave us a throne, and this nomination is just a feather on it. The official selection in the Best Cinema and Best actor categories is what makes it special. But we can't get carried away with awards, nominations, or when a cinema becomes a hit. As long as you bear the burden of success on your shoulder, you can't get on to the next film. In my opinion, these awards should be considered a responsibility, just like the commercial success of a film. If some cinemas don't work in theatres, we should look at making them better the next time. Likewise, when a film becomes a hit, we only tend to work towards giving better entertainment," he says.

Talking about the expectations after Kantara's success, Rishab says, "I wanted to break from the success of the Kirk Party, I did Sa.Hi. Pra Shale and people reciprocated it. At that time, I was more focused on direction. Then with Bell Bottom, I played a full-fledged character, and it was accepted well. Kantara was a different experience. In any film I work on, I look at it from the audience's perspective. The final response to a film cannot be gauged till it releases."

Delving into the hype surrounding the Oscars, Rishab says, "I'm basically not a person behind awards. Yes, Oscars is a global recognition. Oscars remind me of Jai Ho, Joker, Parasite, and many such films. I particularly enjoy watching films that are either nominated or take home the Oscars. I am interested in how such films work, the content, and what makes them get this recognition. It is more like study material to us," says Rishab.

We did ask him about Kantara 2, but he signs off with a chuckle keeping us in mystery about his next project.

Yami Gautam wants to star in Madhubala biopic

CE FEATURES

KNOWN for her recent performances in A Thursday and Dasvi, actor Yami Gautam Dhar says she wants to star in a biopic of yesteryear icon Madhubala. During a recent interview, Yami was asked whose biopic would she like to play a role in, to which she responded, "The most beautiful one would be, I think Madhubala ji. I know that there are some films being announced, but it's nothing to do with those announcements."

Speaking of her love of classic Hindi films and songs, Yami continued, "I have always said this in my makeup room because I used to watch her songs at night. So at night, I have this habit to date, of watching either some old songs or some old interviews. It could be Madhubala ji's to Smita ji's interviews and my God! How well-spoken they were. I wish again, one of those actors were still alive. There was so much more that was left to be seen and I wish she was here today because she's one of my favourite actors."

A biopic on Madhubala's life and career was recently teased by producer Tutu Sharma.

Yami's upcoming lineup includes Chor Nikal Ke Bhaga, OMG2 and Dhoom Dham, and other unannounced projects.

'I was told filmmakers don't want to cast non-White people'

CE FEATURES

KUMAIL Nanjiani, known for his performance in Eternals, The Big Sick, and Silicon Valley, opened up about how Hollywood is still restricting the kinds of roles that actors of colour can play. The actor, who is promoting Welcome to Chippendales, said in an interview that filmmakers are hesitant to cast non-White actors as antagonists. "I want to play more bad guys." Referring to actor Sebastian Stan, who plays Marvel superhero the Winter Solider as well as a cannibal in the film Fresh, Nanjiani said, "He does these big Marvel movies, and then he'll play a psychopath. I was told that's going to be hard because people don't want to cast non-White people as bad guys."
